

The question about the right religion

10 September 2019

The address of God to man or through man takes place, like everything in creation, according to irrevocable spiritual laws. The different emphases and perspectives in the revelations result from the divine basic aspects of order, will, wisdom, seriousness, patience, love and mercy, according to the spiritual mentality of the one who receives the word of revelation. In and above all, however, love acts as the bearer of all revelations, without which a true word of God is not possible.

Divine Revelation

Sons and daughters of My Love and My Freedom, let Me take you on a journey through time that began when I - symbolically and analogously - spoke the words "Let there be"; thus to the beginning of My creation. Our journey goes beyond the present to the end of a temporary future. "Temporary" because - just like your presence - it only came into being through the fall and therefore does not mean the end of creation, but only the restoration, homecoming or repatriation of all that once left the heavens.

My creation is eternal. This applies to everything that lives in it, therefore also to each one of you.

Even if our journey is only a mental one, it has a very real background, because it should help you to come to your own conclusions, which is important for your inner development and a deeper realization. After all, you are free children of the heavens, whose goal is to become again that what lies in you as wisdom, power and greatness.

This is My intention, which I connect with My present word of revelation: to address and activate again and again the heart-logic in you, which I have been teaching for a long time - if you are willing to do so voluntarily. This goes a little beyond My still extremely important clarifications, admonitions and encouragements. It challenges you, if you like, and at the same time it can bring you a profit that should not be underestimated.

In order to get a satisfactory answer to the question - which has occupied many millions of My sons and daughters worldwide since time immemorial - which is now the "right" religion or also community, the knowledge about the fall of the angel, also called "The Fall", and it's effects on the entire creation, is indispensable. And it is just as important to let this knowledge have consequences, which means: to shape your life, that is to say your thinking and doing in the light of My words differently than before, as far as this proves to be desirable or necessary; always from the viewpoint of your free will.

I created everything out of Myself, because there is no other power than Mine. So that My creation, which, in it's endlessness and complexity exceeds every one of your ideas by an infinity, develops and forms itself error-free for all eternity, I created irrevocable laws, which never - even if only by an iota - will be changed, or need to be changed. If this necessity should exist, it would at the same time mean that they are not perfect.

Everything that came out of Me is - like Myself - perfect. It will forever remain so in it's original basis, even if idiosyncratic behaviour of this perfection could and can temporarily put the stamp of incompleteness and inadequacy on it. But everything will return to Me into perfection.

Because I want it so, and because I have the power to do it. But above all because I Am Love!

The law above all else is the love that understands and forgives everything, the love that is selfless and unconditional. All beings of the heavens, which you call angels, carry this love fully developed within themselves - whereby most of My human children do not know that they themselves are angels who have put on a "material garment" for the most diverse reasons and for a limited period of time.

All other laws, to which order, seriousness, wisdom and others belong, are carried by the main law of love. This is one of the reasons why I, as Jesus of Nazareth, brought you first and foremost the main commandment of love for God and neighbour: It represents the essence, because it contains everything.

The one who loves in this way, fulfills the law and lives in Me. And the one who serves the law, is served by the law!

What does this mean? That there are different mentalities in heaven and that individuality has no limits; but that religions, ecclesiastical associations of any kind or religious communities do not exist. Likewise, you will not find different opinions and ideologies there, nor groups that only consider their teachings to be the right ones.

In principle, however, everyone does, even if they do not explicitly emphasise it. If they considered the guidelines they live by to be the wrong ones, they would not practice their beliefs.

Isn't the reason for that obvious? Heaven and all that lives in this perfection, is love and unity. Where should exclusion or segregation have its place? Whichever way you think about it, you can only come to one conclusion:

That a soul - when it is again with Me as a pure spirit-being, must - on its way from earth to heaven - have discarded everything that does not belong to all-embracing love. It must have become free from every union, which has previously prevented it from being able to enter the bright freedom of heaven.

When I say that it "must", it does not mean by coercion, but it represents a prerequisite to be able to live in the world of My perfection. This is based on the law of attraction, which says: "He who wants to enter heaven must bring heaven with him, or carry it within him."

The soul has the freedom to make an informed decision. If it does not want to take such a step for further development - which does not change anything about My love for it - it does not mean that it then inevitably lives on in lower and grey astral areas. As a rule, the life of a soul - unless it carries a greater or lighter weight of karma, continues in a far more beautiful environment than the one it has just left - that is, in matter.

In its ignorance, it can even consider its new home as "heaven", where it finds like-minded people. In this category are Catholic, Protestant, Hindu, Buddhist, Jewish and Islamic "heavens" - and many more. There are as many as there are opinions.

But sooner or later, every soul will realize that it does not live in heaven, which is its true home - and where its longing eventually pulls it. For there, as already said, nothing separates them, so there is also no belief that one's own world-view with all its rules and all the laws and prohibitions imagined by human beings, is the right one.

So if there are no religions in Me, but certainly on earth, does not the logic of the heart say that - on the way back, or at home - everything that is not divine and therefore contradictory, must have dissolved? For what I have created, exists forever. What you lay down during the process of transformation, is human work and in many cases, caused by the influence of the fallen former angels!

Your Christian religion teaches that two creations have emerged from Me: the spiritual and the material; that I have thus created the angels and, in another act of creation, man. This false doctrine has given rise to a completely false picture of My being, My love and the actions resulting from it. The deception is so grave because it - like the elimination of reincarnation - has begun at a central point, which has not only "twisted" My teaching a little, but has caused damage to your spiritual development, the extent of which you do not yet realize.

My following words will cause anything from incomprehension to rejection by some who adhere to the literal interpretation of your Scripture:

There is only one original creation, the spiritual one, which is your heavenly home! All other, non-heavenly realms, have arisen as a result of the fall. Thus, the belief that there is another creation - a second creation, which has produced the material universe together with the earth and with it the plant and animal world and finally man, is based on false assumptions. Only the fundamentalists among men are still attached to this belief, that it took place over a few days.

In My wisdom I have foreseen the falling away of a part of the angels and have set the course for their return from the very beginning, but the formation of the worlds outside perfection, only became necessary through the rebellion of Satana and her following against Me and my commandment of love.

Compare this with your loving behaviour towards a child who leaves home after an argument, but for whom you provide a roof over his head because you have the financial means to do so, so that he does not have to live on the street.

Whoever would view - to continue with this example - the relocation of the runaway child as something completely separate, detached from everything that preceded it, can, in his ignorance, only come to the conclusion that there is no reference whatsoever to any other event before it. The origin of the child and the reasons for its return, therefore remains in the dark.

The intention of the opposing forces to disguise the origin of man and thus the knowledge of his true being, worked. And so, not only ignorance entered the world, but also lack of consciousness about the necessity to become - through knowledge and work on oneself - again what is hidden in the depths of the soul since eternities: to a pure, radiant angel, living in My love.

The formation of habitats outside the heavens happened over an indescribable course of time. The close-to-heavenly worlds possessed - and still possess - a high radiance and vibration, the more distant worlds became more and more dense. In the end, the last and lowest part of the Fall was the material universe known to you, and your scientists have long since realized that what you know as matter, is nothing but highly compressed energy.

In My love, I not only allowed all this to happen, I also added My energy and finally gave the Fall-beings the possibility to find a base on planet earth that would allow them a slow, step by step, higher development, if they wanted to carry out this upward development. Which was not the case with all of them, and still is not.

My eternal laws always remained the same. They did not change through the fall just because the circumstances - caused by the opposing forces - changed. Only one further law came into force, which serves to make the return possible through the recognition of one's own misconduct: the law of cause and effect. My love-law as the basis - and at the same time the superstructure - of all that I have created, did not change.

As I have often revealed, everything in My creation is evolution. Nothing arises "just like that", out of nothing, overnight. The reason for this is that everything must be contained in everything, in order to finally become and be perfect.

Life on Earth therefore also evolved in evolutionary steps, all of which built upon each other - and continued to build upon each other - until it was finally time for the first living beings to populate your planet, thereby giving the Fall-beings the opportunity to incarnate as individual souls. Do not attempt to grasp these periods with your human mind. You will not succeed.

Due to the unequal - especially climatic conditions - different ethnic groups with their cultures formed in many places of your earth, which all developed their own ideas of "God and the world". This should not come as a surprise, for the beings who incarnated, brought their own ideas with them. After all, they were souls who were far away from any knowledge of God; who often incarnated, among other things, only for the purpose of creating confusion, war and chaos on earth, and who, in this way, created a "human basis" for the energy they so urgently needed.

In the course of the history of mankind however, also spirit-beings from the pure heavens incarnated with the assignment to bring knowledge and wisdom to immature men. But also other souls enter matter, which - often with good intentions, but not always with "divine blessing" - conveyed their views and teachings to men.

But in all cases, the forces of darkness - which had no interest in a spiritual development of men and still do not have - were anxious to undermine all efforts that would bring men closer to Me. They proceeded as they have done for ages, and still do today:

Since they know the weaknesses of every human being, they started their influence where they expected the greatest possible success. Were they successful? What does your heart-logic tell you? How big has the "market of religions" become, in which every world-view has the feeling and claims to be on the right path? Who is still proclaiming the way that teaches 'love and nothing else'?

And yet, despite all the multitude of beliefs, rules and dogmas brought into existence by human beings due to non-divine influences, not infrequently also due to satanic inspiration, one doctrine has always remained unchanged: My law of selfless and unconditional love!

After all, the inner distance between My children and Me had become so great that they were no longer able to recognize the way home at all, due to lack of awareness and lack of the ability to love. The confusion had reached it's climax, and there was a danger that they had not only become blind for the way back; even if they would want to, they could no longer take it on their own and reach the end successfully. They strayed too far away from their original homeland.

At this point, I intervened - and after a long and careful time of preparation, entered the earth Myself: Love incarnated in the person of Jesus of Nazareth. The rest is known to you, though incomplete and partly falsified.

Again I speak to your heart and your mind: Did I bring a new, a different religion? Did I establish a church? Was there any need for this at all? Or would it not have been sufficient to free the many existing and largely false teachings and the misleading signposts from everything with which human thought and will had equipped them under the influence of the other side?

For many centuries I revealed to people that I brought the teaching of love and lived love. Period. Nothing more! No prohibitions, no exclusion, no gagging, no threat, no commitment, no compelling beliefs, no externalities necessary for salvation, no pomp and no pseudo-sacred actions. None of that. Therefore I remain with My "No More", even if it can be misunderstood with sinister intentions. But it was the greatest gift mankind has ever received. And it implies freedom!

Let those who want to understand, understand.

What do you believe: Do the beings of darkness fighting against Me - who are much more real than you believe and who largely control your world-events - have these beings stopped pursuing their aim of confusion and destruction? For this, they would have had to recognize, repent and turn back, which was the case with only a few. But the vast majority of those who fight against Me and you, are undiscerning. And why should they give up their actions - for they act unrecognised from the invisible? They benefit from the fact that very few people consider a direct and constant influence and manipulation by these forces possible at all.

This led and continues to lead to a devastating error, which terrible seed will continue to grow, until - through lived love - people come to a consciousness that gives them deeper insights.

The effects of their uninterrupted influence can already be seen in the multitude of churches, faith-communities, teachings and religious views that have emerged in the last 2,000 years, all of which refer to Me, to My life and My teaching as Jesus of Nazareth. I have said nothing of what goes beyond love - and nothing else goes beyond it, or would be necessary.

The so-called Original Christians of the first decades knew and lived nothing else. Did they have any chance at all, according to your church doctrine today, to come close to Me as a soul after their physical death?

Use your minds, My sons and daughters!

On our little journey through time, we came closer to the answer to the question of the right religion. Do you suspect or already know it? Remember: In eternity, the law of love is valid. Also the fall of the angels did not change anything about the eternal existence of this law; the formation of the ethereal and material worlds, had no influence on love and the principles assigned to it; neither did the massive intervention of the dark forces in the last two millennia concerning the representation of My love-teaching. It is and remains untouched by this. And so also love will be the only guiding principle and remain so, for the way that still lies ahead of you, until all have returned home.

What human work has done to it, will again be taken away - because as human work, it has no existence. Being of low vibration, it cannot enter into higher and highest vibrations. It is transformed and finally dissolves, which means that the soul aspiring to heaven, will voluntarily discard all that has been acquired, practiced, done and imposed on it, on its way out of free recognition. Not only does the spiritual being no longer need all that "overhead", it cannot cross the light-boundary of heaven with such "luggage".

Only and alone My love will be the standard over all aeons, that leads home as a sure signpost. In your true home, this will be the "religion" that unites Me and you with all that is, forever.

The answer to our question is now obvious.

Everything in My creation is evolution, that is: Everything grows, matures and develops uninterruptedly. This also applies to religious beliefs, the foundation stone usually laid in childhood. Therefore it is completely normal that children and young people are brought closer to ideas about Me that correspond to their mind and understanding.

A comparison with attending school, makes it clear that the first textbooks have a different structure than the later ones. Over the years, and according to the student's interests, the subject-matter changes. It becomes more demanding and more extensive, and no one would have the idea of defining the previous tasks of arithmetic, writing and reading as the greatest and best, the crown and summit of the learner to be learned, the ultimate, and thereby give the impression that there is nothing more than that.

In the much more important area of your life-mastery, combined with the questions of where from, why, and where to, the vast majority of people behave quite differently. Born into one of the many world-views, they seldom take the trouble to question whether what they were prescribed to believe, is really what I have offered My children and still offer them; whether the many instructions and precepts are necessary to fulfill the main commandment of love for God and neighbour; whether the rites and ceremonies really make them live love more intensely than before, and whether the traditions in which one can experience a certain sense of security and togetherness, are not more obstructive than beneficial on their way to Me.

But above all, they do not ask themselves whether they let themselves be bound and therefore stagnate; which of course they are not aware of, because they do not know the necessity of a steady spiritual development with My loving support, which I call inner work; otherwise their behaviour would become more and more selfless and loving, with advancing age. They do not ask this, because attachment is something completely alien to them, or because they cannot imagine how they could have been bound by it.

Remember My indications so often given, that darkness is far more refined than human brains can imagine. The binding I am talking about, is a spiritual one. Unnoticed, many of you have fallen into the traps of habit, inertia, and the no-need-to-think-about-it [mindset], which applies to almost all spheres of life and is not limited to religious communities. You will find such a manipulative behaviour, which can cause feelings of guilt among others, for example in your partnerships and families and in raising children. It may be necessary, as shown in the example of textbooks, to start with simple images and ideas. Nothing speaks against this; these steps are supported by Me because they are steps on your "soul ladder".

And yet, My beloved, you carry a much greater spiritual potential within you, which in the long run, will not be satisfied with what it has been offered as religious food until now. Many a one of you already suspects this when he is with Me in quiet moments. If you want to give in to the longing of your child-heart, which sooner or later will draw you anyway with absolute certainty to My Father's Heart - and that is a promise! -then look at yourselves and ask yourselves where you allowed yourselves to be bound. And look at the "substitute actions and aids" that you think you absolutely must and did practice, because without them, it is difficult or impossible to learn to love more than before. Is My help really not sufficient?

I live in you, My child!

After honest consideration, the list of "additional measures" considered important so far, will become smaller and smaller.

If, for example, you want to discuss something with Me, ask Me for forgiveness, because the knowledge of a wrong behaviour has risen in you, followed by an honest repentance, it is enough, My child, to close your eyes and go inside [yourselves].

At the same moment you are with Me, and you have in Me, the most patient listener who is never angry with you, who does not judge or condemn you, who does not reproach you and does not make you feel guilty, and who simultaneously acquits you to come into His - into My Arms; What more do you need?

If this one consideration alone, i.e. letting go of the old and the traditional makes you feel insecure and perhaps even causes a feeling of guilt, then consider whether this might not be a sign of a previously unrecognized bond.

If something is done wrong, the damage is repaired by doing it right. If love is violated, as it happened with the fall of the angel, then the solution of the event represents an action in the sense of love. No idea, however ingenious, expressed in a thousand outward appearances, can replace a process of reparation and restoration. They are unnecessary.

Love, however, brings this back into balance and brings back into harmony what had previously fallen out of harmony. That is the deep meaning of love - and nothing else!

With our little journey through time, we have explored the question of the right religion. Have you found the answer about the only right one, because it is only founded in heart and mind? Then you know that it is the religion that teaches you to love in inner freedom!

Amen
