

I speak to your heart and your mind

14 January 2019

The address of God to man or through man takes place, like everything in creation, according to irrevocable spiritual laws. The different emphases and perspectives in the revelations result from the divine basic aspects of order, will, wisdom, seriousness, patience, love and mercy, according to the spiritual mentality of the one who receives the word of revelation. In and above all, however, love acts as the bearer of all revelations, without which a true word of God is not possible.

Divine Revelation

Sons and daughters of My Love, when the spiritual being dwelling in you was still with Me in the indescribable glory, infinity and beauty of the heavens, knowledge and discernment were your own in a clarity, even brilliance, exceeding any human imagination. This was and is true for all My children; for I have endowed you with parts of My divine power and greatness and a fully developed consciousness.

Close your eyes for a moment and let this image of a heavenly creature - the angel you are forever - arise in you, even if you find it very difficult or hardly possible. So I see you, every single son, every single daughter: infinitely strong, infinitely sovereign, infinitely lovable and full of understanding and wisdom.

Then you left the heavens for different reasons. But whether this was caused by the fall or by the desire to descend into matter to help it out of love for Me and your earth brothers and sisters: In any case, when you were incorporated into a human body, you had to leave behind much of the spiritual potential that had previously determined your life and work in the heavens.

This was not fundamentally different with Me when I incarnated in Jesus of Nazareth. I too had to fight and overcome as Jesus; otherwise I could not have been an example to you and thereby show how to live love, how to recognise the procedure of darkness, how to arm oneself against it - and still remain in love - and how to finally win the confrontations with the numerous hostilities and thereby step by step open up again the divinity of one's being. The attacks to which everyone is exposed represent nothing other than an uninterrupted running against the defence of your human being, in order to damage the more or less well secured "fortress soul", which the opposing forces are really concerned with.

For unlike you, darkness knows that your soul is the more important part of your being compared to your transient body.) For your soul – that is what you are when you have left your body and go into the worlds beyond - remains for different periods of time in the spheres that correspond to it's vibration or condition, until it evolves in the spiritual realms or decides to a new incarnation.

That is why the satanic forces are constantly trying, at every opportunity, to keep people from developing in the sense of love. Because a soul that has not allowed itself to be put off in it's effort to live love, goes into the hereafter into light spheres in which it can no longer be reached by My and your opponents. Therefore the body of man, his psyche, his environment and much more are only the target of darkness in so far as it influences your spiritual body, your soul.

If you too were really aware that your life lasts forever, most of you would behave differently than before. By "conscious" I do not mean that you know about a life after death or about your true heavenly home. You who know My Word of Revelation - which I have been giving into the world for centuries and increasingly in the last decades - know about it; as do the many who have sought and found answers to the important questions of "where from, why and where to".

But knowledge does not replace consciousness! The latter develops when you live with Me, when you think of orienting your everyday behaviour according to My commandment of love, when you no longer focus on getting by as well as possible as a human being, but when you include the knowledge of your eternal existence in your thinking, speaking and acting. When you earnestly strive for this, then I Am the one who prepares your ways already during your lifetime in such a way that your trust grows and grows due to the experiences made with Me, and all your worries and doubts become obsolete.

I know that such a life - fearless and secure as at the mother's breast - is also your most fervent wish. As selfless and unconditional love, I am not only ready to fulfil this wish for you; I am directly waiting for a child to turn to Me in this spirit. Because there is nothing more beautiful for Me than to accompany the inner awakening of a man and his soul and to enjoy it when a son or daughter of My love makes his way back to the eternal homeland! Would you as parents not also do everything you can to make it easier for your child to return home? Can you seriously believe that I would not be ready or not able to do this, and too much more?

If you affirm what has been said, then it results from this that the well-being of your soul is also my priority; which does not mean that I do not also take care of your bodily well-being, to the extent and in the way that you allow this to happen, and as it is then possible for Me under consideration of your free will. But as your material body passes away and cannot at all be accepted into spiritual realms - as many still believe on the basis of false and misleading teachings of your theologians - My care in the first place can only apply to your soul.

Your human also serves Me to move him through the way of self-knowledge and the resulting steps to insight and change his behaviour, which has corresponding effects on his soul. Whereby I am anxious to steer each of your steps in such a way that on the one hand it leads in the desired direction - that is "heavenwards" - and that on the other hand, this is connected with as little discomfort for the human as possible. But there is no way around the fact that you have to take your steps and climb your very personal "Jacob's or Heaven's ladder" rung by rung. The School of Life, Earth, and your destiny are My tools and your teachers.

The observance of regulations invented by men, the faithful, rigid fulfillment of laws adapted to earlier times, the cultivation of ancient traditions, the adoption of behavioural patterns already practiced by the "fathers" - all this and much more does not bring you any closer to My Heart. It may at first prove necessary for one or the other to approach the thought that there is a higher power which one should serve. He then does this in the way as he has been taught, because he does not know better. But when these aids, these "crutches" allowed by Me - because from a spiritual point of view they do not represent more than that - are not recognised as the very first rung on your ladder and then overcome in the course of your spiritual development, they represent a great obstacle that possibly prevents you for a long time from a further development in the sense of the commandment of love that I taught as Jesus of Nazareth.

Consider from this point of view what I have previously told you about the influence of darkness on man's weaknesses. Thus it has achieved the goal of preventing the maturation of your soul through your own knowledge and decisions. And when you look around you - and whoever likes can look into the mirror when he considers this important - then you recognise the extent of this satanic influence with the consequence of a deliberate spiritual standstill.

I will again unite My divided creation, which means that I will again lead back into unity everything that has fallen. This is My Will, which is founded in My Love! Who wants to successfully resist this My will in the long run? Such a power does not exist! Because that would mean that the creature would be greater than the Creator. Or the light would be more powerful than the source from which it comes

I came into the world two thousand years ago and put a stop to the intended destruction by the dark forces. And not only that: At the same time My Christ-power was put into the hearts of all people and souls, which enables them to return home, to re-enter their eternal homeland; for their gates were closed until this time, due to the fall. I reopened the heavens through My victory, which was a victory of light and love over the dark and the opposite.

The greatest part of the people, among whom I incarnated Myself, had distanced themselves from Me in their feelings and thoughts and consequently also in their actions. Men worshipped a God to whom they built glorious temples on the outside, but whom they no longer knew and felt in their inner being. The dutiful observance of their laws had become for them the standard for a life pleasing to God. They worshipped Me in their stone houses and took care to bring Me their external offerings in the right way. The cultivation of traditions and rites replaced for many, the examination of their readiness to bring Me "inner sacrifices". Fraternal love, intercourse and togetherness, humility and the search for warmth of heart, were set as a yardstick by only a few.

The darkness had understood, by purposefully influencing human weaknesses, to put the importance of all action outward. Love, the driving force of all development, led a shadowy existence. Large parts of the caste of priests, which had built up and expanded their position over many centuries, had become an instrument of negative forces and exercised power over the people. Their instructions, rules and prohibitions were omnipresent in people and their daily activities.

I knew very well the concentrated resistance I would meet, for My simple teaching would shake their teaching, both in the short term and in the long term, collapse their house of cards, and diminish their prestige and authority among many. It was therefore not the simple people who closed themselves to Me; it was the scribes, Pharisees and priests who saw Me as their enemy. Inspired by the opposing forces, they stirred up the ignorant and easily influenced masses of the people and incited them to put an end to My work. The rest is known.

But to many it is still not known to its full extent; for My physical death was not the end but it was the beginning. It was the beginning of the return home of all My children. This was My will and it was fulfilled.

Whoever, in the wrong view, judges My mission to have failed, I ask: "Has the farmer failed, only because the seed which he has laid in the ground must first come up and therefore cannot immediately produce the desired fruits?"

What was so dangerous about My Message that the temple-servants and their entourage did all they could to stop it?

I questioned the necessity of their salvation mediation and thus their right to teach! I taught that every person has a direct access to God within him. I presented this God as love, as a father to whom everyone can come at any time - without having to make a detour via an external mediator, via biblical scholars, students and scholars. And I gave people the only key they needed that would enable them to successfully walk the path to God: love lived in everyday life! In the shortest and simplest terms imaginable: love - and nothing else.

This made Me their enemy, for My words and My actions were revolutionary. Then as now.

But many of the people believed Me and believed in Me although they did not understand everything that I told them. But they felt the truth in My words. They allowed Me to kindle the fire of longing and love in them, for it was to become a conflagration spreading over the whole earth, so that My Word would be fulfilled: "I will make everything new!" It has become a conflagration, even if a look at your world events seems to reflect the opposite and repeatedly raises the question: "Father, when will the fruits of your teachings on love become visible?"

My sons and daughters, you know by now that everything is constant evolution, and that nothing will become as it should become "by itself and in a moment". This principle concerns both spiritual and material creation.

If you want to do something good for a child, then you will prepare for him what he is to learn and teach it in the right doses so that it can be understood. You will proceed step by step, one will build on the other. No responsible person would come up with the idea of showering an ignorant child with the complete knowledge.

Do you think I acted differently than Jesus of Nazareth? Do you trust Me that My wisdom two thousand years ago was able - yesterday as good as today and for all eternity - to teach people what they could understand and also apply according to their consciousness, that is to say their comprehension - and no longer? So not to overtax them by overwhelming them with a multitude of spiritual truths and laws?

If you are sure that I act in this way, then you also know at the same time, that My teachings of that time were only the first link in an infinitely long chain of My Wisdom, although they already contained the core sentence: "Love God, your Father, above all, and your neighbour as yourself". Then you also know that there would have been much more to say beyond that, especially concerning the implementation of this commandment, the difficulties that arose, the constant, invisible presence of darkness and its disturbing manoeuvres, your possibilities to strengthen inwardly in order to be prepared against it, the law of sowing and reaping, which continuously affects your life and much more.

But even in My closest environment, in My family and with My apostles and disciples, I often encountered incomprehension; for the new thinking - to meet God, the Father, in one's own inner being in absolute freedom - was something unusual for most people. The bonds of upbringing, social constraints and often the burden of past incarnations, were still strong.

I did what you would do when you realized that your opposition had reached the limits of learning, receptivity, and understanding: I postponed further teachings, which I often wrapped in parables and pictures, to a later point in time and promised to send My Spirit to men, who would introduce them deeper into My wisdom.

I kept My promise.

But the darkness was not idle. It was able to convince your scribes that My Word, which was only recorded as fragments in your Scriptures and in many places no longer corresponds to the original, is all that I have to announce to My human children. They passed on this wrong opinion to you, and they still do this today; partly still under threat of eternal hell punishments, even if no longer as publicly and obviously as before.

What do you feel when you are told: "Everything that is said by God must be measured by what He already said"? What would you say to a school administration that rejects the new and constructive subject matter of the 2nd grade on the grounds that it is not contained in the subject matter of the 1st grade? Would you just ignore it or just shrug your shoulders? Never ever! And when it comes to the much more important decision concerning the development and career of your soul?

Be vigilant, My sons and daughters, and use your mind!

You, My beloved human children, have not listened to your heart in many cases and on many occasions, although there were questions and uncertainties. And this is one of the reasons why I teach you the logic of the heart, which is to make you responsible children of My love, free of any influence and bond.

If you question your heart and involve your mind - which best fulfils its function as the right hand of the heart - much will unfold within you. You will find answers that remain closed to your intellect. Thus, step by step, you will cast off your ignorance and often your remaining fears, with which darkness has made you servants and maidservants, while in reality you are free creatures of the heavens!

Remember My opening words: Besides many of My other divine qualities also an unclouded clarity in feeling and thinking is your own, although often still slightly to strongly covered by your own ideas. When you are ready to strive for or develop this clarity, which is a part of your awareness, then you are more and more immune to run into the numerous traps of your opponent. Because then you are firmly rooted in Me.

For this I give you a picture:

Every ideology resembles a wind that crosses the land. Here it is weaker, there it is stronger, depending on the contents it carries with it. What is not firmly rooted, he takes with him and carries it away in the direction he wants. Or it is blown here and there, unstable like a feather in the wind. In this way it cannot take root, it cannot anchor itself firmly in the earth. It is and remains a plaything of forces that are not interested in its growth and therefore tries everything to keep it moving and thus prevent it from coming into contact with the earth. The solution, which at the same time represents the salvation of the uprooted, lies in his decision and in the subsequent implementation to take root where security is guaranteed: in Me, the all-embracing Love.

Become, be and remain conscious, My beloved, that I live in you. My help has already helped you in so many situations; mostly you have not even noticed that I was your companion and protector. My help will increase when you start to clean together with Me the dirty windows of your soul. Thus your ego loses more and more power over you and the partly still hidden child of My love - the heavenly being in you - unfolds and is expressed stronger and stronger.

Then it finally becomes a certainty for you with which you can live wonderfully: That there is only life and no death and no destruction. Then the joy of having taken the path at My Hand to become again what you have been for eternity, that you are about to take up your heavenly inheritance and repossess what has always been your property and what you so longed for as man: infinite security, inner richness in abundance, unconditional trust, boundless freedom and a capacity for love that you would not have thought possible, gains the upper hand.

All this is in you! I have come into the world to walk with you the way that leads to this land. It is much closer than you think.

If your heart is open, you will discover My love in it, despite all the seriousness of My words. You will feel it the deeper and more direct the more intensively you live with Me. But you will only understand and experience their true greatness when you are again completely with Me.

Amen

Spirit = the individual, eternal being created by God, the core of being in soul and man.

Soul = is the ethereal shell which surrounds the core of the being and which at the same time represents the sum of the burdens.

Body = the human body into which the soul, including the spirit (core of being), incarnates during an incarnation.
