

Every step of development is goal-oriented

16 February 2020

The address of God to man or through man takes place, like everything in creation, according to irrevocable spiritual laws. The different emphases and perspectives in the revelations result from the divine basic aspects of order, will, wisdom, seriousness, patience, love and mercy, according to the spiritual mentality of the one who receives the word of revelation. In and above all, however, love acts as the bearer of all revelations, without which a true word of God is not possible.

Divine Revelation

My beloved sons and daughters, when I as Jesus of Nazareth spoke to men in parables, I did so because in this way I could most easily reach them in their inner being. Some of My pictorial speeches and comparisons are recorded in your writing. Not much has changed in the manner and form in which I have revealed Myself since then - that is, throughout the two thousand years up to the present day; I still use pictures and examples.

Many times My disciples asked Me to explain to them the deeper meaning of a parable. This should not surprise you or even cause you to shake your head at so much simplicity and ignorance. Consider that all that I brought near to the people was completely new to them. They had hardly any spiritual knowledge, but instead a longing burned in their hearts, which they themselves were often not aware of. Those who listened to Me with sincere willingness and open ears were for the most part incarnated from the pure heavens, so they were not involved in the Fall. Their incarnation took place at their own request, in order to lay the foundation-stone for a new humanity together with Me.

The little spiritual knowledge that men possessed at that time was imparted to them by the scribes and Pharisees. And it was exactly the opposite of what I taught.

Most of them had not learned it or were not used to question a statement - even if it was expressed pictorially for better understanding - to look "behind the scenes", so to speak. As a result, they were also unable to draw their own conclusions for further recognition or even consequences from what they've heard. Very few thought about what My love-teaching meant for their present or for their later spiritual life.

There have been exceptions. They were to be found among those who took My words seriously and who changed their life because of their faith in Me and because of their love for Me. But many who listened to Me, resembled the recipients of good news. They took note of it with a nod, but then turned again to their daily business.

Do some of you already suspect the further thought of this revelation? Let us develop it together because it is so important to Me that you become thinkers and doers instead of mere readers and listeners of My word; that you let the knowledge that has accumulated with many as water on a hardened and therefore only slightly permeable surface, seep into the depths of your consciousness and finally into your soul. For if it remains only on the surface, it cannot help to water the seed in your soul to produce good fruit.

What has changed, in contrast to then, in the two thousand years when you compare how people today react to Me and deal with My Word? Do not exclude yourselves in this reflection. You cannot avoid having to give the following answer: Although today incomparably more knowledge and information is available and men are in many ways more enlightened, the ability and willingness to accept My words and to follow through with thought-provoking impulses, is still just as limited.

I was ridiculed and rejected by many at that time. But then - in the first decades of Original Christianity, as you call that time today - gradually an ever-increasing enthusiasm and joy spread among My followers. Both had their roots inside the soul, in the willingness to live love and in the unshakeable trust in My guidance. The intellectually acquired knowledge had not increased, but an inner knowledge that had grown on the basis of the experiences made with Me.

Today you have more insights and a wider horizon than ever before. Today you are able to penetrate into the small as well as the big, to explore the atomic structure of matter as well as space. Only your ability to consistently finish a thought in a much more important, the really decisive area - namely that of your eternal life - to draw the necessary conclusions from it, and then to put them into practice, has developed very little. On this point, humanity is lagging far behind its technical achievements, which are only temporary in nature.

Consciousness does not develop in any think tank, not in the laboratory and not on the drawing board. Consciousness is something different than intelligence or a good memory. It grows and expands to the extent that man lives My commandment of love or at least makes a serious effort to do so.

I say all this without any accusation. I am merely stating [a fact]. It's something you should do once in a while. Not to make you feel small and unworthy afterwards, when the result is not yet as exhilarating as you would like it to be, but to see where there is room for improvement. If you want this.

It is and remains My endeavour - and that until also the last of My fallen and My children who went voluntarily is again with Me - to help you to inner knowledge. Because they alone can and will be a real help for you to progress even more purposefully than before on the way to your eternal, heavenly home. My love admonishes, it reminds, it encourages, yes, it asks and begs, it is the being in all that I impart to you and that you encounter. And not only that: It is the life, it is My Divine power in every helping hand, in every support, in every concession.

It cannot be any other way. Because I have and am omnipotence; and My will, which can be impaired or influenced by nothing and again nothing, is the guarantor that all find their way back to Me; all without exception, including those who caused the Fall. But above all, My selfless and unconditional love watches over everything!

Inner knowledge has nothing to do with religious or esoteric knowledge which you have acquired, which you have been taught, which you have taken on - in the great majority of cases un-criticised and unchecked - and which, moreover, often turns out to be wrong or incorrect. As children you had no other choice, but you grew up ... As you grew up, the diverse and not always easy tasks that there were and are, became more and more. Some turned away from Me, others became indifferent to Me, and still others - most of them - held on to their habit of recognizing other people as authorities only because they have studied or are "high up" in a church hierarchy.

Man cannot study Me! You can only experience and get acquainted with Me by including Me in your life, by expressing My love in your everyday life. There is no other way! Then man, if he is ready, gradually recognizes the truth.

Never let something become truth "just like that" just because it is presented to you as truth. Let it become your truth. Apply the standard of My unconditional and selfless love in your thinking and examining and by including My Divine laws. What you have finally recognized as your truth - which then also is Mine - then live in the awareness that it is love that accompanies you. Only then - only when it has become your truth, can you announce it "with success". Only then will you proclaim My love! Otherwise you only sound like an echo and only pass on what has been given to you by others. Which incidentally does not only apply to the teachings through your scribes but to everything that is given out as My word; therefore also to that that comes to you through those who are under My commission.

Use, My sons and daughters, what I ask you again and again: your intellect.

I spoke of the difficulties or even the inability to draw your own conclusions or consequences from what I teach you; what you hear with your ears but which so often does not reach the heart and therefore also does not lead to the way of a further and deeper understanding. Whoever acts in this way is like a person who breaks off something that has begun and is content to have received an initial hint.

If a piece of information or a message is something that, from a human point of view, is important for his earthly well-being; no-one will simply take note of it and then turn back to his everyday business. Or can you imagine to learn - although not yet finally confirmed, but already as good as certain - that you have been provided with a large inheritance, without you taking care of it as soon as possible? Without you pulling out all the stops to find out if it's true? Without - should the correctness be confirmed - you being happy, make plans, preparations etc, etc, ...?

You yourself can find enough further examples, including situations from your past that have challenged you and caused you to find out more, perhaps even do a little detective work. Just think of a not so pleasant medical diagnosis. Would that which often leaves you spiritually inert and indecisive also discourage you from further considerations and activities in the event of an inheritance or an uneasy diagnosis?

With the logic of the heart, which I teach you, you have - with a little practice - the ability to think an issue through to the end and thus are able to recognize whether the way leads to the promised or desired goal; whether your "hiking map" therefore has the right description and correct direction. You don't have to break off a thought process that has already begun, you don't have to stop halfway, perhaps the goal is already in sight but full of insecurity and uncertainty about what will result from what has been recognized and understood so far, what the next step must look like.

In My last revelation¹ I referred to the parable of the prodigal son. I spoke of two prerequisites that must be given in order to successfully start and finish the journey home to the Father's house: the foundation and the following individual steps of the "building project". Today I will use this parable to work out another aspect with you. It will surprise most of you because you have not considered it before, because you have not made this connection.

It is, however, a central point; and precisely because it is of such crucial importance that it will not immediately be approved and accepted by many - by most - in its ultimate consequence, although they cannot reject the logic and the truth contained therein. Here also a fundamental difficulty becomes clear, which exists between the acceptance of My teaching and its implementation in everyday life:

It is relatively easy to believe My words. But when they are put to the test of practice, many who has previously given his consent, withdraws his 'yes'.

I only remind you of My word "Love your enemies..."

You know that all souls and people will come back to Me. This means, as I have revealed it to you many times before, that all are on a circular path, which inevitably brings them back to their starting point, back into the heavens. This will happen because it is My will, which is based on My love. With My sons and daughters, who consciously decide on a journey home, this process will not take as long as with those who - with regard to lived love - make no effort at all; who perhaps even work against Me, or who have been led into temporary detours or dead ends because of false teachings.

But no matter how long the way home takes: The goal is always Me!

Does it not follow from this that everything that happens to a person - and in the hereafter later also to his soul - represents a station on his return journey that is comparable to the stops on a train journey? That everything, even every moment, resembles a point on the great arc of a circle that leads him home? Must I give you the answer? Can it be anything other than, "Yes, it is"?

The cautious among you - and I say this with a smile - will keep a back door open and answer: "it cannot be otherwise".

But what does this fundamental insight mean? As a reminder: a) you are on your way home, b) your goal is love, c) love has the will, the power and therefore all possibilities to bring you, children, home. You can add d): ...there are forces at work that can make you waver in your resolve.

No sensation, no thinking, talking and doing of a child is hidden from Me. Every one of My creatures is before Me like an open book. I deliberately express this pictorially for you because you can understand it more easily this way. In reality, all of this is taking place on an energetic level that is not accessible to you. I Am Life, the energy in everything, and thus I Am Omnipresent. So I know about your small and big efforts, your striving or not, to want to find your way back home. How could I, the infinite and highest consciousness, not know about the good and the bad of every being that I have created and in which I live?

But I do not possess a book in which I enter the good and less good of My children. This childishly naive idea - which has developed and is still being promoted for lack of better knowledge - gives the impression that I reward the good and punish the evil. As a means of pressure, a scourge of fear, to regulate ignorant believers, must still be used, just as it is misused as a means of education: "The good Lord sees everything and will punish you for it."

Yeah, I know, see and hear everything. And I love anyway! Selflessly and unconditionally!

I will reveal it again and again, because it is a crucially important point to be able to understand Me, My law and My love properly:

Every creature that lives outside the pure heavens, is bound by the law of sowing and reaping. Every human being determines through his own behaviour to what extent love-energy flows - can flow - to him, which in turn shapes his soul-vibration, his soul-strength. According to his state of mind, which is an expression of his character, the principle of cause and effect sets the course. This means the stations of a human life which contain the experiences still to be made, i.e. the learning tasks which still have to be tackled.

It is not I personally, then, who sends you what is incomprehensible and unjust in your eyes. I do not punish! My law ensures, and does so without error, that sooner or later on your journey, you will be presented with the next unresolved task. This never represents a malicious act on My part, even if you sometimes believe this in ignorance of the connections. You have the freedom to ignore this handout that comes from My love. Then your journey will take a little longer. But you can also see it as a chance to learn and mature and tackle the work involved with My help. Then everything will go faster.

I summarize and complete what has been said. I ask you to keep it in your heart; but this does not mean that you should lock it up there. It means that you are to make it a foundation of your thinking and acting, a basis for your love for Me, for your neighbour and for yourself. Then your behaviour becomes free of reproaches against Me, of doubts and resistance, and you become less and less susceptible to the permanently and everywhere lurking temptations to ascribe the circumstances in your life and generally also in the world to chance or My injustice.

Everything is evolution, everything is a perpetual progress, evolving.

You are also a part of this process, you are actively involved in it.

Every development is heading towards a goal, which means:

Every single step of development is goal-oriented!

No situation represents something rigid, something final.

Everything is always a transitional phase.

The journey goes through many stations.

One of them is where you are right now.

Yesterday's was the basis for today's, today's prepares for tomorrow.

Love is your goal, it attracts you - in the long run - irresistibly.

Therefore, it cannot be considered as the author of that which burdens you.

The innumerable aids which it offers, can only ever be strengthening and uplifting.

They consist of the tasks set for you by the school of life.

Your neighbour is a part of it, without him knowing it.

You are required to work on the solution in a positive sense.

When you succeed, a next, purposeful step of development is taken.

If you acknowledge the truth in My words and want to benefit from it for your life, then it offers itself to take the next step: namely to stop questioning or looking negatively at what your life is constantly presenting to you.

It cannot and will not be avoided that you would not understand many things at once. Then your trust in Me is needed and at the same time your spiritual strength, not to leave the chosen path; because you do not know your life-plan and therefore also do not know what I intend to do with you. But you cannot simultaneously agree with the logic in My words - and look at life as a school, for example - and then go and reject the tasks at hand. That means: yet you can, because you have free will. But then you should honestly ask yourself once in a quiet hour how great your desire really is and how earnest your efforts are to become freer and to follow the way which I as Jesus of Nazareth preceded.

Help, which you need to let a small, still cautious 'yes' become a larger, more determined 'yes', flows towards you with My love-energy in undreamt-of measure when you ask for it.

But in many cases it will be a help to you to look at your present life-situation from the point of view of what is revealed today: That something is currently being prepared that will serve as a basis for the next step; that today's rung is necessary so that you can step onto the next rung on your "ladder to heaven".

But even then, when such or a similar process of maturation in your life is not - yet - apparent or is not perceived by you, everything you encounter has its meaning. It therefore helps you, and if it "only" reminds you, to look at long-standing difficulties more honestly than before, or to finally tackle a work that has long been pending.

You are, of course, free to say, "I can't." This is to be fully agreed with, because if you could do it already, it would not come to you as a learning task. So it is a matter of acquiring a skill that is still foreign to you or not yet so familiar. But it makes no sense to take part in a lesson - as a reminder: an incarnation always takes place with the consent of the soul - and then to refuse the teaching material on the grounds that you are not yet able to do so.

Look at your everyday life from this point of view, look at your behaviour towards the people you live with in your family, or with whom you meet at your workplace and on many occasions, or who are entrusted to you. Is there peace? Have you done everything you could to resolve a difficult situation that may have existed for some time? Are you prepared to show consistent behaviour where it is necessary? Have you learned to say "no" even once in love? You want to learn? Do you want to practice it with Me when you are not yet quite successful, but you already know or suspect since long ago that such a learning step is pending? Question many of the things you have gone over too quickly so far. And also observe what fears arise in you when you think of your future or that of your children or those close to you, because you feel that the floodgates have opened. You will find what you are looking for if you are not lacking in honesty.

And above all, the most important thing: see everything as a piece of the mosaic that is being used right now, in this time and in this incarnation, to complete the glorious image that you are in My Eyes. Often the big mistake is made by you to regard a beautiful piece of the mosaic, or even several pieces, as something that should absolutely be held with all means and preserved in this form.

It is understandable when you try to capture carefree moments or beautiful periods of life. But they represent no more than a brief moment on your homecoming circuit, a stop on your journey. You should use them in the spirit of love, but not hold on to them! For therein lies a danger: everything that man tries to hold on to, is taken away from him; not because I do not begrudge it to him, but because I have something else, more beautiful, better, planned for him. These changes are right and important for you and your spiritual development. But I can - in a figurative sense - only fill your hands when they are empty². Whatever you want to keep in your own will, no matter how good and right it seems to you, must at the right time be wrested from you by the law of sowing and reaping, because space is needed for what is the next step on your evolutionary path. That means, your spiritual maturation.

A development that takes you from the stage of your humanity to perfection, cannot usually be completed in an earthly life. It either requires corresponding learning and maturing steps in the otherworldly realms - if this is meaningful and possible - or it requires a new incarnation based on a voluntary decision. But always a life, be it in the material or in the fine-material, represents only one of several, possibly also many stations, which all serve to bring you closer to your goal or to remind you of the task you have taken on and to prepare you for it.

And that is why everything you encounter has a purposeful meaning, whether it is pleasant or difficult, easy to learn or hard to master. It is no reason for those of My sons and daughters who believe Me and integrate My word into their life to resign themselves, or to seriously quarrel with Me. Times that are not so easy will also exist for them, but they know about My love-power that lives in them. And they use it.

My beloved ones, allow My words from the eternal truth to solidify in you and thus become a foundation on which we - you and I - can build a time of intimacy and togetherness.

Amen.

Revelation of 15.01.2020

I will fill your hands, because they are empty...

Look, I took away your burden -

even those you thought were lucky, that you gave away piece by piece.

For you did not know that it was I Myself, who approaches thee in the garment of sorrow, in the garment of misery - who, by taking everything, offered you everything.

I will fill your hands, for they are empty...
