

The invisible helpers at your side

16 March 2019

The address of God to man or through man takes place, like everything in creation, according to irrevocable spiritual laws. The different emphases and perspectives in the revelations result from the divine basic aspects of order, will, wisdom, seriousness, patience, love and mercy, according to the spiritual mentality of the one who receives the word of revelation. In and above all, however, love acts as the bearer of all revelations, without which a true word of God is not possible.

Divine Revelation

My beloved sons and daughters, when I called My creation into being out of Myself, was My desire and will to create beings that are similar to Me; not equal but similar, which means that they were allowed to call a majority of My characteristics and essence their own forever. They should, as you put it, be "God-like", endowed with a power, greatness and love that you as men cannot even remotely guess.

Everything that has emerged from the Source of My Eternal Life, is similar to Me. It is not 'equal to Me' as the so-called Masters want you to believe. So you are not God, not even a part or particle of God. You are creatures of My love who carry a potential in you that you can only grasp when you live again in unity with Me.

Your path to this point is a path of development. The heart-logic should tell you that it cannot be otherwise. Because when you look at yourselves, your environment, your history, your consciousness and the growth in nature - simply everything - then you will realize that nothing of what is was there all at once, "just like that"!

It has matured to the moment in which it is now as it is! And it will continue to unfold for all eternity. For I Am eternal and infinite, and there are also no limits to what I have created. He who can grasp it, grasps it.

The reason why I have not created any heirs for Myself who can only follow what My law provides without their own will, without their own decisions, lies in the fact that free children of My love should populate my kingdom, which is also their kingdom. For only through the freedom, which in connection with individuality brings forth the variety of life, is it guaranteed that everything "moves" uninterruptedly, that joy and creativity prevail, that something new is tried out and awakened to life, so that nothing freezes, but is uninterruptedly, newly formed, and progresses.

That, My Beloved, is evolution. It requires that all creatures be endowed with free will, and that they will be able to implement it without any restriction. The other, at first sight negative side of the "Coin of Free Will" contains the possibility - which I have consciously accepted - that free will is abused in order to strive for and achieve one's own ideas, desires and goals. Then, however, the causer violates the commandment of love and automatically places himself under the law of sowing and reaping.

Continuous growth includes everything that lives in the infinite vastness of the space of creation. This therefore applies not only to the various stages of development in the individual spheres, but also to the heavenly beings you call "angels". But very few of you know that they themselves are angels who have left their eternal homeland for the most diverse reasons, whether for a short time, or for a long time. When they have finished their excursion into matter, they too will again be what they were before and then will be forever: Angels, highest vibrating consciousness, inhabitants and partners in My spiritual creation, children of My love, who have made their experiences or fulfilled their assignment.

Also angels do not arise instantly, as finished creatures, spontaneously created by an act of My will. They are, like on earth, the result of the intimate love of two spiritual beings. Once they have grown, the first phase of which you can compare with a lot of imagination with an earthly pregnancy, I bless them; and in the care of their parents and brothers and sisters they mature, learn with joy and thus gradually unfold the abilities that lie in them according to their mentality. *)

So, to use your words, there are "young" and "old" angels. They all carry the same love, My Love, in them. This love, however, is differently pronounced by the experiences they have had, by the practice of their active love for everything that lives - the mineral, the plant, the animal, their spiritual brothers and sisters and also man.

This answers your frequently asked question about what angels in heaven actually do. They serve, they all contribute to the smooth meshing of the innumerable processes. They are busy, but not because they "have to", but because they voluntarily and joyfully contribute their part to the good success of the great and the whole.

They receive from Me the energy for their selfless action, for their perseverance, their overview, their decisions, their patience and their indulgence. So they do not work out of themselves; they work on My behalf. They do not have to ask extra for power and strength because they live in the law. And the law serves the one who serves the law. This applies in heaven as well as on earth.

Every angel is free in what he does. But he will not do anything that does not correspond to his talents and possibilities and that is contrary to the commandment of love. The Fall, also called the fall of the angels, is always before everyone's eyes; its devastating consequences can be felt everywhere, and they will only be eliminated from the world when unity is restored.

So everyone always acts in such a way that he is in harmony with everyone and everything, whereby the emphasis of his actions is determined by his mentality. This is marked by his heavenly homeland: from the realm of order, will, wisdom, seriousness, patience and love, to mercy.

The heavenly life is correspondingly diverse. The "old" are ready to help the "young", and they want to learn full of zeal, thereby gaining knowledge and experience and experiencing in themselves what evolution means. In this way, they grow step by step into larger and more difficult tasks. There are more than enough of them, especially when you consider to what extent and how urgently care, attention, assistance, nursing and protection of the needy is needed in the extra-heavenlies, to which your earth belongs.

Your angels, invisible to you, are involved in all situations of human life, including mineral, plant, and animal life, but I will not go into this here. There are those who are present at birth, as well as those who are called "angels of death" with you; although they are the actual obstetricians, because they help the soul to detach itself from the body and to find its way in its new homeland.

Others, on the other hand, have made it their task to support you when it comes to very specific learning and research, as for example in the many branches of science, music, arts of all kinds and much more; but only if your activity of searching and testing lies within the framework of My laws. Also many are at your side as spiritual teachers, especially when you express through your searching that you want to find the way of truth.

Your imagination is not enough to give you an idea of how often, on what occasions and in what form you have been raised and strengthened from the spiritual, how often your invisible brothers and sisters have prepared the way for you. In the rarest of cases you have guessed that heaven has played a decisive role.

These aids can be limited in time, or your spiritual companions can change, or the actually intended support cannot or only conditionally take effect, because you do not allow this through your behaviour: But one thing will never change, namely that love and tolerance, with which you are led, are always in the foreground. This cannot be any different because no heavenly being has qualities like not understanding, devaluation, judgement, impatience or disapproval. The one who heaven puts at your side, is so full of brotherly love and so developed, that he can cope with any situation.

Your guardian angel occupies a special position and may have accompanied you for several incarnations. Every person has his personal guardian angel. There is a lifelong energetic connection between him and you so that he can intervene instantly - much faster than you can think - when a situation requires it.

Among the many tasks that angels have to accomplish, there are certainly easier ones than that of standing by a person for a lifetime and loving him unconditionally - whatever happens. But even in this distribution of tasks, nothing is dictated; this selfless service of love is voluntarily and joyfully taken over by one of your spirit-brothers and sisters. But it presupposes something of your guardian angel: Besides the mentioned qualities of tolerance, understanding and patience, also the acceptance of any rejection, without an "inner retreat" of your angel or a minimization of his love, not even if a person does everything to go ruthlessly with his great ego through the world.

And your angel must still be able to do something that most people do not succeed in or at least find difficult: He orientates himself in his commitment exclusively to the justice of the law of cause and effect, without disregarding My principles of love and mercy. Which means that it must be possible for him to let the man entrusted to him also obviously experience negative things when he recognises that only through this, the way to self-knowledge and to change can be cleared. So he will not relieve him of a necessary learning-process and thus spare him. On the contrary, he will do everything in his power - because he acts under My authority - to let man wake up and turn back, whereby he pays attention that the awakening and the turning back are connected with as little pain as possible.

In short: he has the overview, he never gives up, he is incorruptible, he is full of love, and he rejoices in every thought about him that comes from an open heart. But with all his love for you - precisely because of his love for you - he has in the first place your inner healing and external [bodily] healing in mind. For with regard to your immortal life, your spiritual growth is decisive, while your present life is important, but represents only a blink of an eye in eternity, only a small distance on the way back to Me.

What I have created and create is perfect. Which does not mean that it does not have to grow and unfold. Even a seed is already perfect; it already bears the fruit, but it has yet to ripen.

Even your students and scribes do not insinuate that I am the author of the defective. They solve the problem of the nevertheless existing disharmony, sick and incomplete, by saying that man cannot penetrate into the secrets of God. This applies to the depths of My Godhead and wisdom, but [inability to penetrate] not to the fact that one cannot explain My love for My creatures in spite of all misfortune that happens in personal life and also worldwide.

The deeper reason for this attitude lies in the non-recognition of the fact that the law of sowing and reaping mentioned in your Scripture works not only from the present into the future, but also from the past into the present. The false doctrine of a unique life completes the ignorance and insecurity of all those who believe this doctrine. The worst excesses of the lack of explanation of your church superiors, are shown in their statements that I punish those who do not obey My commandments!

You can find out for yourselves the reason for their behaviour to persevere in the false, dogmatic teaching of a unique earthly life, by asking yourself a few simple questions: What would happen if people were to be released from the restrictive corset of this religious rule into the freedom of their own thinking and recognise that I am neither illogical nor unjust? And therefore there is no unique, often even faulty act of creation through Me when new human life arises? And what would happen when men would discover that I live in them? That they therefore have a direct access to Me, a contact that exists since eternities and will exist in all eternities, and can never be interrupted by anything and anybody?

If something is faulty then there must have been something in it's past that caused this imperfection. And again I ask you that you use your mind, which - as you know - best fulfills it's task as the right hand of the heart. Or to put it another way: Make use of the freedom of your thinking!

If I Am not the one who sends misfortune, sorrows, diseases, calamities and much more, then something must have happened at some point on your way from your original perfection to your present imperfection - something serious. Because it was and never has been My intention - because it lies far away from My being - to take away from you all that I have given you before, with the proviso that you keep it for all time.

You are a child of My love, a child of the heavens. You were perfect - you still are in your inner being - but on earth, in your present situation, you realize that there is still much to develop to become again what you once were in full consciousness of your childhood.

Your thoughts should not be about finding out what it was that brought you to earth and to your present place, to the present point of your present incarnation. It is much more important to recognise the opportunities that this incarnation offers and to use them in the sense of lived love. The best way for a soul to gain the necessary insights and the conclusions to be drawn from them, is to find itself after its incarnation in a world of diversity, contrasts and the most diverse views, intentions and goals.

Then, My child, you find yourself confronted with people who "move" you inwardly, who challenge you, who make you ask and question, who make you think about the meaning and purpose of the whole. On a deserted island you could only complain about a lack of entertainment and variety. There would be no progress in terms of soul-development.

And so I acted by turning the earth - a result of the fall of the angel and its consequences - into a reservoir for all souls willing and ready to incarnate. It is thus the most important planet in the material cosmos for your development and ascent. While on the other stars and in the ethereal, non-heavenly realms the principle "Same attracts Same" is obviously valid, this regularity is only indirectly applied on earth.

Here, too, they are brought together for the purpose of knowledge and learning. This takes place in addition to the possibility of orienting oneself on an example, but primarily by disturbing, exciting, annoying or even violating the other person(s) with opposing behaviour. In this way they will sooner or later be led to recognise what still lies in them as misconduct to be corrected.)

In the "earth reservoir" you will therefore find the most varied degrees of consciousness, which should not be confused with education, origin, intelligence or even intellect. To understand this regulation, imagine a small village community whose school has only one classroom in which all children - regardless of age, knowledge and learning-ability and willingness - are taught.

Now comes the restriction, and with it you enter the ground of reality: no one knows the other well, everyone only looks at the outside. The yardstick for the evaluation of the other is always only one's own opinion, and in many cases there is virtually no acceptance of the other's behaviour. On the other hand, prejudices, devaluations and condemnations prevail. No-one knows who his neighbour really is, just as he himself is unknown, who he is, and why he is there.

Transfer this picture to your life, your environment, to the people with whom you live and work and whom you meet, and you must realize that you do not recognise or know much; yes, that you are not even aware that you live in a melting pot into which you have as a rule consciously gone to make your next learning steps.

And yet there is always the temptation to expect or even demand from your neighbour what you think is right! Have you ever thought that the other cannot help but behave as he does? Because he has no other knowledge and no other consciousness and possibly does not want to make any other decisions - he has free will! - or has he? Because his inner life is his inner life, and his "spiritual preconditions" are perhaps completely different from what you assume, expect or wish?

Everyone is at his own point of his own personal evolution. And no one, except himself, has brought him there.

The only purpose of bringing people of different consciousness together is to advance the development of the soul, which, contrary to other doctrines, has not yet reached its climax, even when the immortal soul leaves the declining body to live on in other, soul-worlds. Your inner maturity is initiated and promoted by the fact that you first "rub" against each other and then learn from it and strive to take your steps that bring you closer to love.

Your guardian angel accompanies you in this process. He is constantly trying to help you; he picks you up where you stand; he plans and prepares your next step, which builds on what you have developed up to this moment; and - he never overwhelms you.

If he hadn't opened up these and other selfless abilities within himself, which basically lie within everyone, including you, he wouldn't be able to help the way his protégé needs it: value-free, unprejudiced, unconditional, patient and without judging.

He is thus like a good doctor who can only make a correct diagnosis and prescribe the appropriate therapy if he meets his patient with an open and compassionate heart, regardless of how the patient presents himself, how bad his illness is, and which causes or which wrong behaviour underlie it.

If you want to know, My child, what a proper contact with your neighbour - the unknown being who is not accidentally in the same class as you - looks like, then visualize the behaviour of your guardian angel and your spiritual companions. Not for nothing have I spoken of the qualities which your helpers have - must have, because otherwise they cannot successfully fulfil their serving task.

And when you realize that there is a good reason for you being incarnated, then you will come to a point in your thinking that makes you wonder to what extent you can contribute to understanding, harmony, and clarity. One possibility of your inner work could be to see your neighbour with different eyes than you have been able to see so far, and to act differently towards him in the future. If you make this effort, the power of the heavens will flow to you, for every step, even the smallest one, will be supported by Me and accompanied by those who are invisible around you and love you.

The more your inner understanding opens, the more you recognise the truth in My words, the more you affirm the readiness to move forward in you, the greater your longing will become and the more your love for Me, your neighbour and yourself will grow. The result will be that you will think, speak and act differently, and from this in turn, My Love Power can flow to you to an increased extent.

This will lead you to become freer and more loving, and through the experiences you are having with Me more and more, your understanding will become different, and you will recognise and internalize My great plan, which is: I Am Love, and I bring back to Me all that has left the heavens; which at the same time means that no one will be lost.

Everyone is involved in a constant evolution, in an infinite development, which only progresses, even if it often appears otherwise. But, as I have already revealed to you once: Every life runs on a circle whose end point will inevitably end where everything began.

It will be so because I want it to be so.

Amen

*) The angels the Lord is talking about here have nothing in common with the angel boom that has been coming out of the esoteric scene for years and is mostly staged by the masters and their followers.
