

How you promote your spiritual development

17 June 2019

The address of God to man or through man takes place, like everything in creation, according to irrevocable spiritual laws. The different emphases and perspectives in the revelations result from the divine basic aspects of order, will, wisdom, seriousness, patience, love and mercy, according to the spiritual mentality of the one who receives the word of revelation. In and above all, however, love acts as the bearer of all revelations, without which a true word of God is not possible.

Divine Revelation

My beloved sons and daughters, for those who already know My Word of Revelation, the basic truth "Heaven is Love" is nothing new. And many may wonder why I put something obvious before their eyes at the beginning of My present transmission and especially emphasize it.

I am doing this because I wish that you would practice not only nodding at the truths and wisdoms that you have known, but also knowing the depth of them. This means that you should not rashly ignore a statement, fact or a given, if and because you consider it right or true. For there are almost always other laws hidden behind it, which only help you on your way to Me if you measure your own behaviour against it and correct it if necessary.

If you believe that Heaven is Love, what will result for those of you who wish to return to your eternal homeland? The answers are obvious: On the one hand, it follows from this that there is no death in the sense of "everything is over", so there is also no reason to fear and worry; and on the other hand, the spiritual law of attraction regulates what happens after death for each individual. For it says that he who wishes to enter heaven, must carry heaven within him. In this case, "heaven" means light, light and wide living spaces, which do not prevail on earth, and which also have an unimaginable extent.

The true heaven, the reunion with Me, your life in an indescribable beauty and freedom, the oneness with all that is, lies in a dimension that cannot be reached with a "leap" from the earth to there anyway. But also the later entry into these spheres, presupposes that you have developed so far in the hereafter - that you have become love again - that you have reached the high vibration of eternity, that you carry it within you.

It is not yet so far; but all My children of men and souls, whether they know it or not, are on their way home. For in your former abandonment you entered a circle that will inevitably bring you back to Me. There is no outside of Me, nothing that does not remain in Me forever and what I receive with My energy. Whereby it does not matter whether a spiritual being has separated itself from Me in its own will or has voluntarily incarnated out of love for its earth brothers and sisters.

To know this should be comfort and incentive for you; and with this I come back to what was said at the beginning: That you should not rashly ignore something that is of profound importance for all of you because it wants to be recognized. This may include, for example, considering whether you are all already free from fears and worries about your life in the hereafter. If there is still something that more or less oppresses you, it might be an occasion to look deeper into something that you have known for a long time, but to which you have not yet paid the necessary attention.

The fact that all of you do not yet embody Heaven could be an incentive for you to make your way heavenward, that is, figuratively: inward, if you really wish to become Love again. I strengthen in you every little impulse to come closer to this goal. Often it is only a few easy steps that are waiting and to which I and your spiritual companions move you; sometimes it is things that are a little more difficult for you, and now and then it is also really big chunks that have been waiting a long time to be tackled.

But what they all have in common is that they want to be done. For anyone who wants to come "from here to there" must move. That is an old wisdom. There it is no use if your superiors and scribes teach you something else. There is no way around the decision to act on one's own responsibility over "faith and grace" and over the observance of commandments, rules and dogmas, over the practice of ritual actions and the observance of traditions.

From this point of view, the word "love - and nothing else" takes on a different meaning. At first glance it seems to make things easier, because then some things will no longer have their previous significance or even disappear, which in the past was only done with half a heart anyway; but at the same time, it calls us to go to work - inner work. With Me at your side, however, this will be much easier for you to achieve and will lead you much faster to your goal than if you were to strive alone.

The experience will not fail to come, that from the effort to live love in everyday life, wisdom and knowledge arise almost by themselves. The reverse, the seemingly less tedious way of accumulating knowledge or membership in a religious community, including the practice of ancient customs, will never lead to the development of the necessary potential of compassionate and selfless love within you, which will bring you closer to Me.

My beloved, what results from this? That one cannot study Me and My Wisdom, but can immerse oneself more and more in Me. What do you understand by this? How many times a day are you with Me? How often do you speak to Me, and be it only through a loving thought, a short question, or by telling Me what is moving you or what you are doing? Ten, twenty, fifty or more times?

Maybe one or the other of you who is still a little strange to this form of communication believes that he would then talk to himself. As the name says, one talks to oneself when one is alone. But you, My child, are never alone. Never, for there is not a moment in your life when I am not with you. I Am the life in you! Or do you still suspect Me in a distant and nebulous heaven, of which no one can tell you where it should be? A look upwards lets you see only a tiny little piece of your material universe. But a look inside shows you the way that leads to My Heart.

So when you think of Me or say something to Me - even if you only feel correspondingly - you are directly connected to your Source of life. And this source is Love! Can there be a reason not to seek and cultivate contact with the power that continuously nourishes and builds you?

Do you become thoughtful with these considerations? Do I remind you of something that you have often done for yourself? And what did the practice look like afterwards? "The day demands it's rights and my duties, you will say. That is true, because you are usually on earth to learn something. But you know for yourself how great the scope is, how great the bandwidth is that allows this statement. How do you interpret it? How much of the many hundreds of minutes that you have every day, do you allow for Me?

Man is a creature of habit, one of your idioms. Then I make you a suggestion: Ask Me to help you to change some of your habits, that is, to replace a few, a few smaller ones of your many worn-out tracks with new ones. Can you seriously believe that heaven will not hear such a request or will not fulfill it? Will it not be because such a request is not made in the first place?

The more often you are with Me in thoughts or words, the closer the bond between us becomes. And the closer it gets, the calmer and more relaxed you become, the more natural it becomes for you that you turn to Me - later perhaps even discuss everything with Me and receive My impulses more and more clearly - and the more trusting our relationship becomes. Such repeatedly practiced behaviour becomes, as your scientists put it, a "conditional reflex". To us two, to Me and to you, one can formulate it this way: It becomes a dear custom that you do not want to renounce once you have experienced its intimacy, warmth and benefits.

We have only just begun to look a little deeper into the words, have only just begun to "dig" a little more intensively, and already many new aspects arise that filled numerous books, we would go into the subtleties, into the innumerable details. But because this would overtax everyone, and because learning is also an evolutionary process that can only be meaningfully explored step by step, it is enough if we turn our attention to another aspect. However, this has it in it, because it touches you directly and plays - just like My uninterrupted presence - a decisive role in your effort for the lived love.

The general ignorance that there is another, an invisible reality - a reality outside your five senses - makes it so easy for My and your adversary and his followers, to constantly influence you unnoticed, hinder you, stagnate you and damage your body and soul. Whereby the ignorance of the law of cause and effect, causes the rest.

I speak of the forces that you almost all know only by name, that you call gloominess, darkness, Satan, Antichrist, Lucifer or just devils, and that are at home in the non-material world that is not perceptible to you. But this ethereal world does exist, and its influence on you - if you allow it - is so permanent and immediate that you would flee into My Arms, you could see the evil and the innumerable forms and variations of the temptations it emanates.

But it is not only the personified evil that often makes life so difficult for you, and that repeatedly puts obstacles in your way. In many cases these are energies, so-called energy-fields, of which there are innumerable in different forms and intensities, which are huge "mist formations" that traverse the universe and above all orbit your planet. Often enough, however, they are also controlled by souls from the astral realms with the intention of receiving energy from people who resonate with the contents of these fields.

What are their contents? Everything that does not correspond to the commandment of love: from hatred, enmity, war and irreconcilability to the huge palette of "middle sins" to the registers of superficiality, misleading pomposity, complacent flattery and vanity and much more.

You are exposed to them more or less 24 hours a day. Whether they can influence you, rob you of your time or steer you in the direction they intend, depends on each individual. This is where the law of attraction works: each of your sensations and each of your thoughts are more or less strongly and directly in communication with the corresponding energies, all the more so for each word and deed.

You are practically stimulated to "send", and you "receive" without knowing it, and vice versa. What appeals to you, what you jump at, is conditioned by what is in your soul and what interests and desires you have in yourself. You can also put it this way: Your character, that is to say the sum of your loving and not so loving qualities, interacts with corresponding forces, with good, neutral, less good or strongly opposing ones.

This is where the Law of Correspondence comes into effect, which many of you also know by the name of "Mirror Law" or "Resonance Law", which takes action when something in you provokes reactions, be they negative or positive.

Only in this example "Heaven is Love" have I led you a little into the depths. It is obvious that there is much more to it than that, in terms of insights that will help you when you make the appropriate decisions. For the wisdom of your heavenly Father is infinite.

But what has been said so far is already sufficient to take the next step, namely to recognize the consequence that results from the knowledge that you are continuously surrounded by forces largely unknown to you. With this I come back to My question how many minutes of your time you want to give Me.

The more often you are occupied with something, the more often you think in a certain direction, the more you fill your consciousness, your subconscious and your soul with it. Where the one is, there cannot be the other. When you are with Me in thought, you give - metaphorically speaking - a small weight into the scale of light. And there is something missing on the other side, something that I, if your effort is serious, has transformed. Then My powers will gradually become effective in and at you, but in contrast to the powers of the opposite side they will not influence you (I respect your free will in any case!), but they will strengthen you and allow more and more insights to rise in you, which then express themselves in your daily behaviour in understanding, tolerance, forbearance, patience and much more. This is a legitimate consequence of your efforts, which does not happen when you fill the mentioned bowl of your soul-balance with knowledge.

If you are basically ready for this, then the question may rise in you: "What should I change? What should I ask of you?" To answer the second question first, My child: If you are courageous - spoken with a smile - then please ask that My Will happen to you, which is something other than the often spoken "Your Will be done". Then heaven will take over the direction of your life, because you have given love the right and the power to do so.

And to the other question: You will learn to recognize what is to be changed; for I will draw your attention to the traits of your human being, to which you have not paid the necessary attention up to now, in measured form. You will learn to recognize from your reactions what is still to be transformed in you through My love power.

Then it is your turn. Then it is up to you to decide whether you want to become free from this or that behaviour or not. But beware, there is a trap lurking here.

There is a difference whether a person prays: "Please, free me from this or that. Change me in that or that point", or whether he comes to Me with the knowledge and the readiness that he too, has to do a small part of the forthcoming work of change. "Please help me to change this trait", would be the - better - alternative.

If, for example, you ask to live in peace with your neighbour, then you will also have to look at and work on the side within yourself that is not yet quite peaceful. If that is clear to you, and if you are ready for it, I will do the rest. How and when this appears on the outside can confidently be left to heaven, which has the overview and knows exactly which adjusting screws it has to turn, and when.

Even those who believe in Me and My Word have rarely thought about why a prayer is not answered. It is worthwhile to deepen this reflection. For if I Am the absolute, selfless and unconditional love, it should be My most important concern to answer the prayers of My children. But what if a prayer request is not fulfilled? If perhaps you ask for the same thing over and over again, and nothing happens? Does this never raise the question in you why love - in the eyes of some of My children then the "alleged love" - seems deaf and dumb?

It is worthwhile, My beloved, to think about this question in a quiet hour. If you search with an open heart for an answer, then I will let this answer rise from within you or lead you to people, books or conversations that will help you to find the solution. If you seriously seek ...

Another trap lurks where it is a matter of letting go of something. In many cases My human children want to get rid of something that bothers them or that is unpleasant to them. But letting go is something else. It means to renounce something from which one has drawn benefit, advantage or energy in the past, consciously or unconsciously.

You want to get well, which is understandable, but you don't want to do without what has contributed to your illness. The causes of an illness can be in the spiritual-soul realm and not immediately obvious. Ask Me for it and I will find ways and possibilities to let you discover a trace that leads to the deeper causes of an illness. This can under circumstances be an irreconcilability - but of course also much more - from which you have drawn a questionable satisfaction.

It can also be loved habits to give up. Or they can be worn out tracks that you don't want to leave. But only then could a basis for a new beginning be created. In any case, letting go always means changing something, not doing something you've practiced before, even if it's "only" in your mind.

That is in some way work, My sons and daughters. It may also mean a little or more effort, and it requires above all, honesty and seriousness. Because the forces that have received and taken energy from you because of your weaknesses won't just watch you approach the Light; they will be missing something. They will at least try to reach you through the tracks that have been successful for them so far. Or they will build new tracks.

You can put a stop to this; for I, your heavenly Father, who became your brother and friend in Jesus of Nazareth, Am in you and at your side. There is no stronger power in all creation!

Now you understand why it is important to come to Me more often, even as often as possible. Every togetherness with Me, even if it is only a short loving thought or a 'childlike thank'-you or a simple 'I love you', strengthens you in your soul at the same moment. It makes your scales of light fuller and fuller, and you learn, for that is what you came into the world for. So not only can your fellow men see in you an example; it can and may also measure darkness against you, and so it also wants to recognize that it is worth leaving the darkness and orienting towards the light.

For anyone who has not yet been able to really get to grips with the concept of "heart-logic": That, My beloved sons and daughters, was pure heart-logic. It says: Use your mind, but best it fulfils its task as the right hand of the heart. It makes it possible to penetrate deeper and deeper into My wisdom without running the risk of becoming top heavy and forgetting the really important things in life: love - and nothing else!

Amen
