

Directions for the coming time

20 May 2020

The address The different emphases and perspectives in the revelations result from the divine basic aspects of order, will, wisdom, seriousness, patience, love and mercy, according to the spiritual mentality of the one who receives the word of revelation. of God to man or through man takes place, like everything in creation, according to irrevocable spiritual laws. In and above all, however, love acts as the bearer of all revelations, without which a true word of God is not possible.

Divine Revelation

My beloved sons and daughters, it is human nature to be guided by others who seem to know and can do better. This conveys a feeling of security which, however, often proves to be deceptive on closer inspection or in retrospection. And yet, time and again, people tend to listen to others and join their thoughts or positions all too quickly, largely out of convenience, but also partly out of a lack of courage to take personal responsibility for their thoughts and actions.

As long as the maturing human child is still in its developmental phase, this process is part of the formation of personality. In a way, it represents the basis for the slowly forming consciousness, which constantly expands in the course of the years of life, thereby learning to recognize connections and also developing a feeling for what is right and wrong, true and untrue in the sense of love.

In this way more and more inner restrictions and blockades dissolve and the soul begins to "breathe deeply". Finally, freedom takes its due foremost place, to - together with love - make man, already in his lifetime, a "homecomer" who recognizes the commandment to love God and neighbor as the supreme guideline. In this spirit, my sons and daughters then make an effort to align their time on earth - which are apprenticeship years - accordingly.

At least that is how it is intended, and that is how it will finally happen, even if the way there is often made so difficult by the activities of the opposing forces that it appears to man as if he could never reach his goal - if he even knows about his goal.

But he will reach it in every case because it is My will, and because no power can hinder Me to fetch all My children back to Me, into the womb of love and their true home. I, as Jesus of Nazareth, brought you the key for the return home, and I have placed the power to use it in your souls on Golgotha. The key is love - and nothing else, and the power has been waiting for you to use it ever since, more and more intensively than in the past. That this has not happened to the necessary extent to stop the activity of darkness, you recognize by the disastrous overall situation of your earth and the everywhere prevailing lack of love and its consequences.

I can only indirectly have an effect on and in your world, namely through those who follow Me because they love Me. Also My and your opponent can have only an indirect influence, he also needs people; but he needs them as compliant vassals, whom he makes into suppliers of the energy which he so urgently needs. The battle, which is fully fought, will be fought on the battlefield earth between light and darkness, but the fighters on both sides are you. You are the ones who have either consciously decided for Me and act accordingly; or you belong to the flock of those who are blown to and fro like leaves in the wind because they are still undecided.

Because love will win, this also means at the same time: I will win through My loyal ones, through those who have not let themselves be lead astray. They have given enough room to the longing in their heart and have grown back into the freedom that allows them to stand upright and walk. They overcame their fear, recognized and loosened their ties and gave Me their 'yes'. Through them and with them will I – will we - win together!

When I, as so often, speak of an argument in which you are at the centre, then most people ignore this reference. You still live, it seems, in more or less intact conditions, because war, violence, catastrophes and economic difficulties hardly or not yet directly affect you. Your surroundings still reflect a seemingly intact world. But truly, I tell you: your world has long since fallen apart.

The fight I refer to, takes place in the invisible. Because you cannot perceive it with your eyes, you do not believe it or consider corresponding warnings to be exaggerated. So the opposite side has an easy job, and the worldwide prevailing ignorance about My spiritual laws contributes to the fact that mankind runs into its ruin with open eyes.

What is now beginning to appear on the outside, has long been prepared in the invisible. The forces of light and darkness are not only facing each other, they have been fighting for eons for every single soul and for every single human being. The time has come when the causes that have been set again and again show their effects. I have already told you: the barrel has begun to overflow - not because My patience has run out, but because the barrel is full!

In the time ahead of you, it will be more important than ever that you recognize what is happening and why it is happening; that you learn to correctly assess the motives of your superiors and leaders in all areas; that you become independent of the different opinions that come largely from the minds of people and not from their hearts; and that you recognize the many "solutions" proposed and introduced for what they are: as completely inadequate attempts to use the means of the world - and not of the spirit and thus not of love - to try to save something that already bears the germ of doom within itself, by believing that one can cast out the devil with Beelzebub.

I Am the pilot whom you can ask on board your life-ship, so that He may guide you safely and also unharmed - at least as far as the soul is concerned - through the coming storms. This will be all the more easily possible for Me the more you see and understand connections and draw the right conclusions from them, which means: In the future to no longer regard anything as "coincidence", which "just happens" in order to then quickly pass over it, but to recognize behind everything My irrefutable regulations. To live with this insight and to accept that My love prevails in every event is something different than just having heard or read about it. It's more than just knowing about it. The wisdom of My law opens up to you to the extent that you are ready to believe My words and follow Me with a childlike trusting heart.

Then My truth becomes your truth. It has to become your truth because only in this way you can announce My love through your life. It then forms the basis for you to sow a good seed from which good fruit will come forth. If it does not become your truth, your actions are like the hollow sound of an empty vessel or the smoke of a smouldering fire that is quickly blown away by the wind.

Even your brightest minds rarely or ever recognize or do not attach the necessary importance to this: that spirit dominates matter and not the other way around; that the spiritual is the original cause of the material, and that it cannot be that matter has produced the spirit. And when one or the other has finally become aware of this truth, then there was still a lack of the necessary understanding to be able to draw further conclusion. One of them, the decisive one, says: Then also My law stands above everything!

This means that your worldly laws are subordinated to My law, and that everything that happens in My creation is regulated by My law or My regulations. Whoever is able to take this concept fully through, has to come to the realization that the disregard of My principle of creation - which is love - must have consequences. Otherwise there would soon be disorder and chaos - and creation would no longer exist. That it still exists despite all satanic attempts of destruction and will exist in all eternity can serve the one who needs proofs as evidence of the correctness of My words.

No-one can claim not to have known about spiritual laws. My word has penetrated into almost all corners of your earth, which I gave you 2000 years ago: "Love God, your heavenly Father, above all things, and your neighbor as yourself." This is the supreme law; it is the guideline which is the guarantor that the one who acts according to it, lives and acts with Me in freedom and peace and draws from its fullness.

Because I never threaten or punish or exert pressure in any way to get a creature to behave in the sense of My main commandment, the impression has arisen that although this is a morally high-ranking rule, it can also be regarded as an offer that one can accept or not.

My commandment is more than a command. My commandment is law.

Thus it is known to My human children that I Am more than the "dear God" and that My creation rests on the iron feet of My laws. And as everything has come out of My Spirit, there can be no rules, regulations, provisions or standards that let My laws become ineffective, stand above them or cancel them.

I AM !

I gave every creature free will, in which I never intervene. And still I had to make sure that the self-will cannot be misused to bring into being contrasting things to the sense of love, which permanently damage creation and in the worst case, destroy it. I had to set boundaries. The law of cause and effect, which came into the world through the angelic downfall or the Fall, is the instrument that guarantees the return of all My children. It is part of My love because it does not intervene in free will and still will sooner or later bring people and souls to the realization that they have acted wrong, whereupon the desire will arise in them to want to turn around and therefore return home.

Many people know My educational principle as the "law of sowing and reaping", at least in theory. And here is your problem: You are seldom or not willing or able to look at your little life and also at the big events in the world from the viewpoint of "cause and effect". Yet time and again, so-called coincidence must be used as an explanation; or you pass over a thing far too quickly, especially when a closer look would produce little beauty or show consequences and make decisions necessary.

This superficiality is promoted by the opposing forces with logical-sounding apparent arguments as being harmless or to be tolerated. This glib passing over things and way of looking at things, serves to obscure the darkness so that you do not look at many things more closely. Add to this the fact that your fast-moving times will soon put a new event on the agenda, and you won't be able to ask yourself the question because of all the distractions:

'Is what is happening there on a large scale and also with myself on a small scale actually right or wrong, true or untrue in the sense of love? Have I developed the ability and honesty, and do I want to have the courage to look at myself by applying to my thoughts and actions the standard of the commandment to love God and neighbor? And maybe I should also think about my motives why I have followed this or that superior in the past, often without criticism and still do so today? Or why do I cling to an idea or ideology when I should have realized long ago that the direction does not agree with the teaching of the one I want to follow? Am I ready to "swim free" and learn to think and act independently and on my own responsibility? Do I want to let my soul breathe and gradually become the strong and radiant child of God that my soul has long desired to be?

The words of your scripture "Examine all things, but retain what is good" can only be of help to you if you know what standard you must apply to your examination. And even then you do not get much further because knowledge alone is of no use to you. You have to carry the standard within you, you have to have tested it and have had your experiences with it. The yardstick is LOVE. When you apply this standard to everything what you want to discern whether it is good or bad, then you will very quickly determine whether it is acted in My sense or not; whereby it is not decisive whether My name is carried in the mouth or not.

Then you will also be able to distinguish whether the fruits are really good, or whether they only taste sweet for a short time, but later leave a stale or bitter taste. And by the quality of the fruits you can easily conclude about the seed and those who have sown it; not to condemn, but to decide whether you want to follow the seed and the fruits of the opposite side or to get into inner freedom and find safety in Me, who became your brother in Jesus.

Freedom and love are at the same time signpost and goal. It is indispensable to make them your companions, even if at the beginning of your endeavours they do not yet have the high status they will have later. What is crucial is that you begin - increasingly begin - to direct your steps home. My love takes you by the hand. Where could you be in better hands than at My side when the storm begins to unfold its full strength?

*

Most of you know the word "safety is only in God". It is not easy to firmly anchor this truth in the depth of your heart and trustingly build your earthly life on it, against all the doubts and doubts that keep coming up. It becomes harder and harder when times lose their comfort and clouds of fear and anxiety appear on the horizon. It can be helpful to recognize the principle behind this word, so that pure faith in it can finally become knowledge and experience, so that your truth and your conviction can grow out of it.

When and because My law stands above everything and it embodies love and omnipotence: how then should it be possible that My Power is incapable of protecting those who come under its protection? But it can be that you do not want to go the protected way which I have planned for you, because it does not correspond to your ideas.

One of your expressions is "There is a catch". That also applies to the protection which I would like to grant you, even if in a somewhat different sense. The "hook" is that it lies in the free decision of man whether he wants to entrust himself to My guidance or not. My fatherly love, which is the life in everything, is available to everyone forever and in full. The stronger the trust, the more honest the effort, the more intimate our inner togetherness and the greater the desire to want to gradually become love again, the closer the person comes to My heart.

So it is he himself who determines to what extent My Divine guidance can become effective in him, which is tantamount to man freeing himself more and more from the bondage through his ego. When he is ready to give love greater importance in his life, "miracles" will happen, but they are not miracles for those who acknowledge My laws and live by and with them.

For a better understanding, the following picture may serve as an example: If the brightness of a light-bulb is reduced by turning the knob on a dimmer, this does not change the current, which is still available to the same extent without restriction; and which also flows back into the light-bulb as before, if the reduction is cancelled by turning up the dimmer.

Man himself therefore has it in his hand to what extent and with what effectiveness My love can accompany and protect him. He says 'yes' or 'no' to Me with it, but not with words, but with the heart and subsequent action. This is the other side of the coin called "free will", which man so likes to live to the fullest without thinking of later; which he becomes aware of far too seldom anyway, because the connections between the seed he has sown himself and the harvest that results from it was kept hidden from him.

In order not to be blown like a leaf in the wind by unknown forces - sometimes in this direction, sometimes in that direction, it is important that you know about these connections. It is important for your spiritual development that you become independent beings who decide on your present and future life by their own decision. You have to learn to see through the satanic game on this earth and - at My hand - to find and go your own way responsibly through the confusion full of contradictions.

When you recognize the truth in My words and put My law first, then you also recognize that all human effort and all solutions, no matter how cleverly devised, are permanently ineffective. And not only that: They lead ever deeper into the swamp, from which only a conscious life according to the commandments of love for God and neighbor, can liberate you. The "world" will not take this step - will no longer be able to do so, because it has let itself be seduced and paralysed. But those who believe My words and take My hand, I will lead into freedom.

What is meant by "taking hands"? I remind you of the image of the navigator that I have used many times before. When you come to Me in your inner being and have the desire and the readiness to go even closer than before with Me through your day, your whole life - then you invite Me with it to come on board your life-ship as navigator. In a stormy night and in an unknown area it is more urgent than ever to have someone on board who knows the way.

No good captain will talk back to the navigator he has invited - or ignore his recommendations or decisions, because he trusts his skills. If he does so because he has the opportunity to do so through his free will, the navigator will take a back seat or leave the ship again - but only to be back on the spot again immediately when the captain, in recognition of his mistakes, makes another request for guidance.

By what comes up to you or also not, when you trust Me, you will easily be able to determine whether My laws stand above any human activity not including Me in its thinking and acting. Test Me when you still want to make further experiences with Me, and you will recognize and feel the truth in My words spoken out of love.

The great ones of this world will lose their masks. They will have to stand there naked and realize that all tactics have failed them. If they do not gain this knowledge in their lifetime, they will meet the fruits of their seed in the hereafter. At some point a light will also rise in them - in the truest sense of the word - and illuminate their inner being. Then also they will bow to My law - which is love - and which will also bring them back.

The assignment of those who love Me is to contribute to the bringing of light into the darkness of the coming time. They are most likely to succeed in this if they loosen their ties and thereby become free, so that they can no longer be deceived and manipulated.

Arise, My son, My daughter! Rise in your inner being, become and remain light, and in this way, proclaim My Love.

Amen.
