

Your willingness is the all-important factor

21 March 2021

The address of God to man or through man takes place, like everything in creation, according to irrevocable spiritual laws. The different emphases and perspectives in the revelations result from the divine basic aspects of order, will, wisdom, seriousness, patience, love and mercy, according to the spiritual mentality of the one who receives the word of revelation. In and above all, however, love acts as the bearer of all revelations, without which a true word of God is not possible.

Divine Revelation

My beloved sons and daughters, there is a kind of magic formula, but most of you do not believe in it, or you reject it far from you. Nevertheless, it surpasses everything you can think of in its positive, beneficial effect, and its implementation is the solution to all problems. The only solution!

You are curious because you cannot imagine such a thing? Then let yourself be surprised. It is a matter of three simple words: "I am willing."

I want to lead you deeper into the "mystery" of these words, and as you follow Me, not a few of you will shake your heads and wonder why you have not recognized for yourselves the great meaning anchored in the petition, "Thy will be done," which is spoken millions of times a day around the world in the Lord's Prayer, the prayer of Christianity.

The fatal mistake is: It is not spoken from the heart - and is therefore powerless - and above all, what then happens because of this request is not recognized as My will, and it is not acted upon accordingly. The highest form of spiritual confusion consists of praying for the happening of My will and at the same time acting against My will. This is the lowest point of the development of the soul, after the consciousness has been restricted step by step before, which the biggest part of mankind has let happen without resistance. Also those who call themselves Christians or who have written the "C" on the flag of their party, community, church or association.

Your concept of Me covers the range from "the dear God" over "the God not to be understood" up to the in many cases still prevailing conception of the "punishing God". But I say to you: I Am not only a God of love. I Am Love!

Whoever is able to take it, let him take it.

The greatness of My all-embracing love can never be grasped by any creature, neither by a heavenly being and certainly not by a human being. In its incomprehensible vastness, patience and tolerance, My love has given the gift of free will to all children, knowing very well that there was also the danger of abusing it. But a gift that is linked to conditions is not a gift of freedom. Nevertheless, I had to build in a "safeguard" to prevent a being - which, depending on its development and spiritual potency, possesses for you unimaginable powers of creation - from causing serious harm to what I have created and will create for all eternity.

Thus, I created the principle of cause and effect or of sowing and reaping, as I also called it as Jesus of Nazareth, which ensures that every action directed against the law of love will sooner or later fall back on the causer. Since everything is energy - of course also the unlawful action in the sense of the love - and energy cannot be destroyed, but keeps its evil, destructive strength up to its transformation, everything still unatoned negative waits to flow out. Time and space do not play a role! The time when the effects are felt, when the flowing out begins, depends on when "the barrel is full and overflows".

Once again for those who can believe My Words only with difficulty because they do not see an immediate, temporal connection between a once sown seed and the following harvest: Time and space do not play a role! Tens of thousands of years, yes many eons can pass until the harvest ripens. What is unatoned for, that is, what has not yet been recognized, repented of, made amends for, or paid off, still exists. If it were otherwise, and if every cause were immediately followed by the effect, this would not correspond to My patience, which is founded in My love and grants every sinner the chance for self-knowledge and conversion. If the effect occurred immediately, this time of grace of reflection would be missing.

But this way, I wait. However, I admonish, clarify, offer My help, let Me be insulted as unjust and accept that My children turn away from Me - and all this because My and your adversary succeeded in falsifying My teaching and in taking out the decisive little cog called "sowing and reaping" from My smoothly functioning clockwork of creation. Thus, the knowledge of repeated incorporations was also suppressed.

That's why people can no longer recognize fundamental connections: Namely, that when something occurs, be it pleasant or unpleasant, there must always have been something before, which has triggered the now current happening. To know details about it is not necessary, it would only burden you under the circumstances. It is enough to accept completely that nothing happens without reason, therefore there are no so-called coincidences. And that I make no mistake!

On this basis, a relationship of trust between Me and you that cannot be shaken, can develop.

True love is unthinkable without justice. It always has the welfare of the other in mind. Parents, in many cases, not knowing about spiritual laws and about the soul of their child, put the emphasis exclusively on the external welfare of the child. For Me, you are a spiritual creature of My love, which has its home with Me and lives only temporarily in a human body, which you discard again when you have taken your last breath. All My love is therefore meant for the development of your soul, which outlasts "death", with the aim to have you with Me again as soon as possible.

True love also includes consequences. If you don't like this clear language, replace it with consequentialism or inference instead. The result is the same. Without consequence, guidance aimed at the gradual perfection of the soul, would have no meaning. Since it is man who learns throughout his life - whether he knows it or not, because that is what an incarnation is for - the soul learns indirectly through the experiences man has and the decisions he makes. I have given you the standard for this through My life as Jesus: Love of God and love of neighbor, which includes love of self.

So, with your will and the resulting action, you continuously say 'yes' or 'no' to My law of love. That means, you fulfill it - as good as it is already possible for you - through your effort, or you ignore it and live your own law. I never interfere with your free decision. If you have the feeling that you are no longer free in your choice, because inner or outer circumstances do not allow this, this only indicates that your formerly free will has experienced restrictions through your doing or not doing in the past; but never through Me. Whenever this may have been, possibly also a long, long time ago.

Despite the self-caused reduction of your freedom of will, however, one possibility is always open to you, even if you are not able to change a situation by your own strength: to ask for help, if necessary also with a cry from the bottom of your heart. Such a step cannot be prevented even by the worst and most aggressive enemy, who of course does not want to let you move in the direction of My light, because he knows that he will then lose the influence he has exerted on you so far.

Therefore, My beloved ones, inscribe it deeply in your soul with capital letters: Nothing and no-one can deny you to turn to the greatest Power of creation and ask to be helped; and that no matter who you are, how big your register of sins may be, and how much feelings of guilt - often completely unjustified - may also burden you. There is nothing that My love and mercy are not able to include. Absolutely nothing!

So the question is not whether you can come to Me, but always only whether you do it!

What does this mean for you and what you will experience in your life as a result? And with this I come back to the "magic formula" of which I spoke at the beginning.

To come to Me and to talk to Me in the knowledge of being in the situation of a child who turns to his father - or also to his mother - means nothing more and nothing less than:

I acknowledge You as the Source of my life, and I am ready to orient my future thinking, speaking and acting according to Your law of love, as far as this is already possible for me with good will and with Your support, which I will then experience.

What will happen then depends on the sincerity of your devotion and on the seriousness of your desire to want to change something in your life in the sense of My commandment of love. Words do not play a decisive role. Tears and stuttering are better for me than nicely put formulations. I look at and into your heart anyway. I also do not need praise and homage. I wish you to be a child whom I can lead in the future in My law of love, which means: according to My holy will.

And it is My will that My human children keep to My law, even in the hard reality of their everyday life; at least that they make a serious effort to do so. What is not always very easy, sometimes even very difficult. Christianity only became a religion that seems largely problem-free and can be practiced "with the left" for many, when the state and church agreed centuries ago and rewrote the rules ...

You will have easily noticed that such an inner attitude is something different than a spoken "Thy will be done", which lacks the lifeblood. Besides - and this will surprise so many - My will happens anyway always and everywhere, because it is not to be levered out. It is effective there in the positive, in the building up, in being or becoming healed, in comfort and in encouragement, where people live My will. Where this is not the case, it often seems superficially as if darkness has won a victory. This may also be the case temporarily on the outside; but since My will is above everything, My law of sowing and reaping will determine what will happen in the following time where My commandment of love has been trampled underfoot.

The spiritual view of any event is always decisive and ultimately the decisive one, even if it often appears otherwise at first glance. This appearance, My beloved ones, is deceptive.

The "great ones" of this world do not believe this. They are the truly ignorant, who in their arrogance place themselves above Me and measure themselves by what they reap in their eyes as successes and fruits of their intellect and sophistication, and with which they can temporarily blind a large part of My unenlightened children. For them there will be a rude awakening. Those who influence and lead them from the deepest astral realms, still live unchallenged and unharmed in the protection of their darkness. Still - because space and time play no role with Me.

Trust in Me is the basis for a happy and carefree life with Me. If you want to know what your trust in Me is like, how great your readiness already is to acknowledge and accept Me as the controller of your destiny, and - to use an image - whether you are already able to board My train without knowing details of the journey, then you can test this for yourself in a simple way.

I give you a hint for this, a thought that I have already brought to you before. And of course you are free to do this little exercise or not. My love and My readiness to stand by you at any time, will not change with your decision. However, it requires a little courage on your part, at least if you want to be honest with yourselves.

Add two words to the petition of the Lord's Prayer, and you will learn - as a snapshot - to correctly assess yourselves, your relationship with Me, your faith in Me, and your trust in Me. Close your eyes and pray:

"Thy will be done to me."

Whatever the result will be or has been: Look at it positively and be happy - provided that you are basically prepared to learn from it. For very few people, a spontaneous yes will have risen up without any ifs and buts. Perhaps this request strikes too much or too directly on the nerve. If something has made you hesitant, and if you want to know what it was, then look into it. Nothing can happen to you, except that you discover through this analysis what you are still lacking. And that you may be deprived of one or two illusions about yourself. Then you have the freedom to decide to work on the recognized points or not.

Whoever does not strive for the development of his selfless love, will not do this exercise. He will pass over it, because the result would mean having to give up self-will, which is against My will. Everyone is free to act this way or that. Only, My sons and daughters: To act against the uncompromising law of My love - no matter if one wears the "C" publicly or expresses it in another way - and at the same time to pray that My will may be done, represents the highest form of spiritual confusion mentioned at the beginning.

Every change, whether large or small, begins in the human being himself. Since you have free will, I must wait - because I do not act against My own law - with a more intense guidance that will make you grow gradually and less suffering than before. Here the magic formula comes into play. Whoever, after honestly examining his motivation, can say to Me: "I am willing", surrenders himself to My will.

And My will is the solution to all problems. Without exception. The solution will not always be able to be accomplished without pain and suffering, not for you as a person and certainly not for the totality of people. Everything depends on how deeply the wrong way of unkindness has pulled the individual or whole groups and peoples over centuries and millennia into the morass of sinfulness. But since everything has to find it's way back, there is no other way than to leave the self-created swamp step by step by abandoning the previous behavior; which will be initiated by chaos and upheavals of various kinds and will bring great losses. The beginnings are visible for those who have still preserved a clear thinking.

They also understand the call: "Enter the ark at the right time...".

Whoever still grasps My outstretched hand in this phase, I will be able to guide him, even if no-one will escape completely without bruises. But these impairments will be nothing in relation to the severity that those who continue to be undiscerning and fight against Me, the Love, will have to bear.

Heaven knows no waiting times. A 'yes' to Me and My love, sets countless cogwheels in My clockwork of creation in motion at the same moment, which immediately all start to work interlocking. From now on, I Am the setter of the course in your life, which in the future will run differently than in the past and will only be determined by the law of sowing and reaping to that extent - a minimum - as it is necessary as an impulse for the realization and change towards the good. Whereby I am the friend at your side in the then following learning process.

Do you have the courage to say to Me, "I am willing"?

My beloved sons and daughters, it takes a little courage to make this decision. Because it shakes a basic understanding: namely, the conventional understanding of what being a Christian really means. So that you do not continue on the path of a false conception that makes you stagnate and at the same time gives many the feeling that you are nevertheless doing everything right and doing everything that constitutes being a Christian, I will confront you with a truth that will vehemently provoke contradiction in many.

I am telling you not for the first time that being a Christian, cannot be compared to a Sunday walk where you only meet nice people whom you greet in a friendly manner. Those who joined Me as Jesus of Nazareth because they recognized love in Me and in what I exemplified, were contemptuously called the "sect of the Nazarene". Many decades of persecution followed because darkness recognized a great danger in the uncompromising attitude of the followers of My teaching. Not without reason, because if the commandment of love had been practiced as I taught it, it would have been tantamount to the end of evil; for love lived would sooner or later have caused all that was contrary to it, to realize and repent - and thus to turn back.

After the suffering and death of My followers did not produce the desired success, they fell for the idea of making a life as a "Christian" acceptable. Thus, anyone who wanted to, could incorporate his Christianity into his daily life without having to adapt it greatly to My commandment of love. This process of dilution lasted for centuries, and finally hardly anyone had the idea to consider whether his behavior really corresponds to My commandment of love of neighbor - which also includes love of the enemy.

In order to recognize the truth in My words, it is only necessary to replace the word "Christian" by the much more honest and meaningful designation: "follower". Whoever does not inwardly resist this and still retains his honesty, can only come to one conclusion: Following Jesus Christ is different from calling oneself a Christian. To do both at the same time is indeed possible and was and still is lived by people who truly love Me and are faithful to Me; but it is not the rule.

To follow Me, as I taught as Jesus of Nazareth, means to fulfill the will of the heavenly Father. And this will is: love - and nothing else. So following Me in everyday life, can be lived even without you giving Me a name or belonging to one of the many churches or religious communities. Your actions are decisive.

To follow Me, means to take up one's cross, just as I have taken up the cross for all mankind. Those of you who know the Bible, will know this word very well. Whether they have thought about what is meant by it? And also the word that they will persecute you as they have persecuted Me, is passed over by the Christianity of the Western world. Why? Because there is no more persecution of Christians among you?

Again, you underestimate the cunning of the opposing forces. Much more effective than an obvious suppression is to lure the believers on a track where they will be led away from the path of discipleship even without external measures. The result is decisive, the way there, the method, is secondary.

What does it mean to enter into following Me? First and foremost, it means to put one's own will into the will of the Heavenly Father by making an effort to equate one's behavior with Mine and to question oneself again and again whether one's own actions correspond to My teaching and My example in this or that point. To practice something like this seriously, is something different than to "come to terms with the world" and to look to get through the day, through life, without getting into trouble if possible.

It is not a question, My beloved ones, of being rebellious or even of resisting loudly. It is quite enough to say no on the points that do not agree with My doctrine of love - go ahead and apply a strict standard. And this in the full consciousness to have to reckon with disadvantages, possibly even serious ones.

In your scripture, which for many is the basis of their faith, you find a report in which it is said that one should obey God more than man. If you do not pass over this statement too quickly, you should actually always have a big exclamation mark in front of your eyes at this point. Or also a question mark? He should at least pause for a moment in thought - perhaps he will also be startled by the clarity of the word - and ask himself whether he is prepared to think, speak and act in the same way as the apostles and disciples did. Because this is a high demand, the highest of all.

To deal with this question - no matter what the answer is - brings you in any case a great gain in terms of insight into how you think, what you are ready for and what you are not. I don't expect anything from you. And whether you aspire to implement this principle of faith in your life step by step, or whether you consider the implementation to be out of touch with reality: It does not change the fact that I love you infinitely and support you in every way to facilitate your coming home.

The hurdles that have been set up to make you understand that such action is not to be practiced, are very high. But their logic is a pseudo-logic that does not know the superior strength of My help and guidance. If the pseudo arguments of My opponent had their justification, then I would have taught something wrong. Whom you believe, is up to your free decision.

Those who try to follow Me will not be able to avoid getting into difficult situations. This is the price that followers have to pay. Not all, not always, not always to the same extent! But that it is not possible to follow Me as honestly as possible and still be able to go through the world of darkness unchallenged and often also unharmed - because that is what it is all about on your earth - many who have reached out their hand to Me and remained faithful to Me, already had to recognize.

It is the loss of what you have come to love, that you are threatened with. Or by being made aware of what it means to have to give up long cherished habits. They are fears that are conjured up in you, in order to shake your decision to live in My following.

Be aware of this, My sons and daughters. It has never been easy to follow My example. For it could and can mean losing one's friends, one's job, the family splitting up, one's life being put in danger, and much more. Renouncing something that is simply part of life after many years, is seen as a difficult, often insurmountable task. In the process, many forget that what they are supposed to do without, was first made palatable to them, even though it is not necessarily required for a happy existence in which soul-advancement is paramount. This creates an attachment that many find very difficult or seemingly impossible to break.

If you want, think about this aspect of being a Christian. I am not telling you this to cause fears, but to make those who want to follow Me out of love, aware of the stones which they try to put in their way, well prepared and often planned from long ago. However, with an ever renewed decision to nevertheless remain faithful to Me and My principles, My strength also grows in you. You develop more and more a deep trust in My guidance, which finally becomes so strong, that no threatening disadvantages can make you restless in the long run. But you should know that it is intended to impose such disadvantages on you. How you will behave, depends - among other things - on whether you put the emphasis on the preservation of your earthly life, or whether you make decisions in which you also have your later life as a spiritual being in mind.

The fight is always against those who, from the point of view of evil, represent a danger to them. The lukewarm, the followers, who do not really live the "C" in the sense of consequences, often remain unchallenged, because the darkness assumes that they will not make any serious efforts and therefore will not make any soul-sized leaps. In this context, also consider - if it applies to you - why you are so quickly and often rashly willing to trust worldly leaders who have proven often enough by their actions that they disregard My commandment of love and are thus under the law of sowing and reaping; but that you are hardly or little able to place the same trust in Me, Who Am the life in you and loves you selflessly and unconditionally....

Closing your eyes and accepting the words and deeds of those who are currently still in charge as truth without checking them, can bring you as a human being and later your soul, into distress. It may be that such a thinking is founded in the wish that everything may become good again as soon as possible and as it was before. And if it would be so? Wouldn't the "old rut" then continue as before? Would this be the beginning and completion of a process that is an indispensable prerequisite for an upward development?

Those of you who know the Scriptures inside out, I remind you of another word of Jesus: "No-one comes to the Father except through Me!" It says that the human will must be placed in the will of the Creator, if the soul wants to enter Heaven. How can this be done more surely and easily than by surrendering: Father, I am willing!?

Whoever can bring himself to do this, will not want to know what awaits him on his further journey, in which I will be his guide. That hardly plays a role or no role at all for him, because love has taken over the direction in his life. Then, as I have already said, I will become your great guide. For I alone know what is good for you - also for your human existence - and for what your soul desires and needs.

I remind you of a word that you use. It is: "God can fill your hands only when they are empty."

So you must be ready to give Me what your human being would prefer to keep, because you believe that your happiness depends on it. It is not said that it will be taken from you. But if this is the case, then this happens as painlessly as possible. You then also know that greater and more beautiful things are waiting for you; something that will bring you joy and will fully satisfy you according to your abilities, yes, that will make you happy.

For it is My goal to see you happy. Only in this way can you become the lighthouse I desire and which also corresponds to the image engraved in your soul. The only condition for this to succeed, is this: that your decision is made in freedom and out of love for Me. Another motivation does not bear fruit, especially if it has fear as a motive to come outwardly as unharmed as possible through the already looming turmoil of the time ahead of you.

But if you can decide to follow Me out of love, no matter what that will mean for you, then you will grow spiritually and become more and more love yourself. Is this not also your desire, My beloved son, My beloved daughter?

Amen
