

Where love flows, there is growth or man must not be a prophet ...

27 September 2019

The address of God to man or through man takes place, like everything in creation, according to irrevocable spiritual laws. The different emphases and perspectives in the revelations result from the divine basic aspects of order, will, wisdom, seriousness, patience, love and mercy, according to the spiritual mentality of the one who receives the word of revelation. In and above all, however, love acts as the bearer of all revelations, without which a true word of God is not possible.

Godly revelation

My sons and daughters, I address all My human children worldwide with My word of revelation today, therefore not only those who read or hear My word more or less regularly. I touch all, and in those for whom it is possible for Me because of their soul nature, I am placing a small seed deep within them. Whether it works depends on the conscious or unconscious readiness of the individual to take Me seriously and to go the way I went before as Jesus of Nazareth.

You know what a dilemma is: a hopeless situation in which you only have the choice between two possibilities, one of which is as momentous and fateful as the other. In eternity, your true home, there are no hopeless situations. For apart from the fact that I Am the Perfect Wisdom and your heavenly brethren also have a potential that enables them to master every situation, there can be nothing there that is against Love. Nothing can arise or prevail there that causes fear, insecurity, doubts and worries.

Outside the heavens and even more so on your earth, it looks different. Here the law of sowing and reaping determines the course of development, and this since the beginning of the Fall, or the fall of an angel.*) This law represents an element of My love that lets everyone who has once left the heavens - for whatever reason - find his way back again with absolute certainty. However, this is not recognized or felt by people because of their ignorance. In their eyes I represent for most of them - as far as they believe in Me at all as their Creator and origin - an instance that is unpredictable and unjust. This also applies to many of your scribes and church authorities who can only answer the question about the apparent injustice in the world with evasive and unsatisfactory phrases.

Because you either do not know the law of cause and effect, do not accept it or misinterpret it, you not only face thousands of questions, but in your helplessness and powerlessness, you also face a mountain of serious problems that can no longer be overlooked or mastered. Your momentous mistake is that you always interpret the law of sowing and reaping, if you know it, only into the future. Your mind should tell you that what happens 'today' must have had a 'yesterday', even if you are not aware of this yesterday or do not know it.

That the reason for your ignorance and disbelief is to be sought and found in the influence of the opposing forces who have been able to manipulate your religious leaders according to their terms, I have brought to your attention in many revelations.

Do you believe My words? Or do you just read or hear them and then go on with your agenda? If you believe them, then you must have the desire to find your way out of the dilemma in which humanity has brought you, somewhat unscathed. By this I mean first and foremost your salvation as a soul, for as a soul you will go into the realms beyond, which you will feel much more real than your present humanity. But I also want to shape your present circumstances of life if you allow this, because it hurts Me when I see how My children suffer.

My Word can accompany you like a light in darkness: He who serves the law, is served by the law.

Because most people do not believe or have only abstract ideas that they have a soul surviving death, they do not believe in the direct influence of destructive, devastating forces.

But truly, I tell you, they are very real, much more real than you can imagine in your greatest fantasies; they know no scruples, are extremely skilful and plan their projects over periods of hundreds and thousands of years and longer. They are beings from the Fall, who very well have form and individuality and a huge army of followers who have joined them for selfish reasons or because they have been enslaved. What you perceive with your senses is only the tip of the iceberg, that which emerges on the surface. The real battle, of which you have no idea, takes place with unimaginable scenarios in the background or underground.

And My human children, who do not know that they are only a plaything in this dangerous, invisible confrontation, go - blind, unenlightened or unbelieving - again and again into the set traps. Not only do they suffer harm, which is often noticed late or too late, they also take guilt upon themselves, for they place themselves, without knowing it, under the law of sowing and reaping with every action against My Law of Love.

By this I do not mean the human inadequacies with which even those who strive daily to live love, have to struggle. I mean the serious violations of the commandment to love one's neighbour, which occur for selfish reasons with the aim of gaining advantages and strengthening one's own position at the expense of the weaker - which also includes your earth, nature.

And the side of the scale in which more and more opposites pile up uninterruptedly, becomes heavier and heavier and inclines towards its lowest point. The counterweight that I as Jesus of Nazareth brought with My teaching, namely the love practiced in everyday life, was put into the other balance by very few. It could have stopped the decline as the only means ...

That's why I came into the world.

Where love flows, there is growth, healthy spiritual and soul-growth, which is also expressed in a positive way in the living conditions of My human children. Make use of the reverse conclusion, which is part of the logic of the heart: Where little love flows, in the best case, there is standstill. Where no love flows, destruction spreads. That is the intention of the opposing forces that one serves in this case.

Many a one of you will be surprised to shocked by My serious words, because he would much rather experience Me as the one who speaks of love, who gives courage and shows solutions. I have been doing this for two thousand years and if you seek Me and really want to find Me, then you will recognize and experience Me, My beloved child, as unconditional Love. And so also these My words will not only consist in showing you the critical extent of your situation into which you have brought yourselves, or let yourselves be brought.

Because I would be a bad father if I didn't care about your well-being. That is why I do all I can to wake up My children; what will be most possible to Me for those who care about love for Me, their neighbour and for themselves, also and especially with regard to their salvation. So they can, if this is their free will, draw their own conclusions from your current state and perhaps make necessary decisions.

Your misconceptions about the law of cause and effect have not only led you not to consider the consequences of a loveless action; you also do not know how My Law works, which is at least as 'dangerous' for your actions as the violation of the commandment of love itself.

The law of karma, as you call it, became necessary through the Fall and is thus part of My home-bringing of all those who have left the heavens. For a successful homecoming and re-entry into the eternal homeland, the release of any indebtedness, which is a shadowing or burdening of the soul, is a prerequisite. For since the same again attracts only the same, only that which carries light and perfection, can exist in the light of eternity.

Because of the free will of every creature, this presupposes the knowledge of one's own wrong actions, repentance and reparation. The confrontation with the harvest of the seed previously sown in one's own will is the means - an aspect of My love - that brings My child sooner or later to insight and conversion. There is no alternative anyway because I never intervene in his free will. The self-inflicted pain and suffering, as long as the guilt still exists completely or partly at the transition into the worlds beyond, is felt much worse in the soul-areas, than corresponding effects on earth.

All this has nothing to do with Me personally, as you are wrongly taught. So it also does not represent a punishment on My part: My law becomes effective, absolutely justly adjusted to the gravity of the offence and the intention of the causer. I have told you in numerous revelations that I support every one who wishes to return home to an extent not considered possible by you, by forgiving and accompanying all his efforts with My power of love. Therefore I will not deepen this at this point.

Everything is energy; there is nothing else, even if it presents itself in different forms in your world. But energy cannot be destroyed. It can only be transformed into both low vibrational energy, as happened in the case of the Fall, and higher vibrational energy, when there is the realization of one's own misconduct, and the subsequent reversal occurs.

Everything that has ever been generated in negative energy still exists, unless the aforementioned prerequisites for its transformation are met. For the sake of importance and because it can help you to better understand your general earthly situation - but also your personal situation - once again:

What was not recognized as false and not cleared up, floats like a sword of Damocles over the heads of mankind. It becomes heavier and heavier and sinks deeper with every further action that is directed against My commandment of charity.

Everything for which the aggrieved person was not heartily asked for forgiveness; everything that was inflicted upon him in losses, harm, pain, suffering, bondage, and much more, and that has not yet been compensated by any form of compensation, awaits to flow out as an effect. The so-called waiting period expires.

This is not only true for the last centuries; it is far beyond that, far beyond what you can think back in your history. Energies do not dissolve into nothingness by themselves just because time has gone by. In the spiritual, there is no time as you know it.

Everything is present - good and evil. In the example of the Fall, you can see the truth in My words: If time would simply heal the wounds, then the fall would be long past and the heavenly unity long since restored.

The honest efforts of many of My children, their prayers and their rejection of the spirit of the times, to live in many things no longer to the same extent as in the past, have ensured that the point at which the world stands today, was not reached earlier. Has the time span thus gained been used - primarily by the governments of your countries, but to a lesser extent also by individuals - to initiate a conversion, or at least a pause, on the path taken? Give yourselves, albeit with a heavy heart, an unvarnished answer to this.

I came into the world as Jesus of Nazareth, to redeem. This happened on Golgotha, but not in the sense that your church authorities teach. I have not transformed and redeemed in a blanket way all that mankind has loaded upon itself in guilt; the element of self-knowledge would be missing there. I have redeemed you by, figuratively speaking, unlocking the heavens so that since then, every willing person has the opportunity to return home of his own free will.

Most of My fallen children have not grasped this outstretched hand.

Perhaps many of you are wondering what has happened so badly in recent years and decades and beyond in the history of mankind that now has such fatal consequences. I want to sensitize you a little to what it means to have your own advantage in mind and to enforce your own will, if necessary by force, and thus to violate My love-commandment. Because you are hardly clear about the kind and also the extent of the causes set over long periods of time. This makes it difficult for you to assess your situation correctly.

Have the nations that have been invaded, appropriated and enslaved in the course of your older and more recent history been compensated and released into freedom? If not, then the effects are still waiting to flow out, unless this has already partly happened in the past through violent counter-measures, natural disasters, epidemics, famines, economic crises and more. Or do you think these and similar events are coincidences? Or - perhaps still - a punishment of God?

The same applies to the Crusades with their millions of dead; to the torture and burning of so-called "witches" including heretics; to the subjugation and enslavement of My black children in Africa, My red children in America and the oppression of My yellow children in Asia; for the appropriation of weaker and not yet so far developed minorities and the exploitation of their countries; for the false ecclesiastical teachings which lead My love-teaching ad absurdum and still today make millions of people unfree and anxious by the threat of eternal hell-punishments; for the unfair jurisdictions that have their roots in keeping dictators in power and countless more.

The list of misconducts, which is all due to claims to power and advantage, could be expanded at will. My point is to sharpen your consciousness for so much that you rashly overlook, because you do not recognize it as a behaviour that does not correspond to the sense of My love-commandment.

Those who do not want to go back so far into the past, may consider the following:

Even if mankind would decide in unity - which is not only hard to imagine, but will also not happen - not to go beyond the present status quo of their destructive and selfish behaviour, i.e. not to harm their planet and themselves any more in the future than before, what do you think:

Would this normalise everything in a manageable time frame, such as the pollution of your seas, the warming of your climate, the extinction of many plants and animals, the decline of so vital insects and birds, the maltreated and poisoned soils, the extremely dangerous dependence on global economic interdependence and much more?

Will the rich voluntarily close the gap between their world and the world of the poor and the poorest? Will political leaders and the people behind them withdraw their claim to be greater and more important than the others, when My Commandment says exactly the opposite? Will you still be able to produce enough of your food products without having to resort to chemicals and artificial additives? How much time does it take for the 'green lungs' of your earth to breathe again, because there are enough healthy forests again? How will you prevent the sea level from rising further? And, and, and

With just one example from many, you can be shown how the law of cause and effect works; sometimes only over decades, centuries or even longer, but always flawless. The fact that mankind does not recognize the faultlessness of this principle, is due to its ignorance and often also to the unwillingness of an honest examination of conscience.

I am talking about the wave of refugees that has mainly been sweeping the European countries for years, the end of which is not yet in sight, which is demanding more than expected - and even more than desired - of you, and which, as a kind of migration of peoples, will mix everything, including your cultures and your values.

Do you think that the never-ending influx of your brothers and sisters from the southern hemisphere is a coincidence, which also brings a strict and uncompromising religion into your society? Is it difficult for you to see the work of sowing and reaping behind it? Remember how the white race, in its arrogance and unbridled greed, confronts the black race and is thus jointly responsible for poverty and political instability in these countries. A behaviour in the sense of Christian charity - and the Evening Land [West] invoking its Christian background at every opportunity and often and gladly bears the name "God" in its mouth - would have been quite different.

I taught people to respect their neighbour and to love him, which means: to help him, to support him, to teach him by example. The opposite happened. Because as soon as the "white, civilized" man sensed an advantage, My Law of Love was forgotten. So it was relatively easy to subjugate peoples who had no defense against the knowledge, aggression and sophistication of their conquerors and occupiers.

A lived love, which is for the not yet so far developed neighbour, would have supported this. They would have picked him up where he stood and served him unselfishly. And they would have drawn their joy and positive energy from the inner and outer progress made by their neighbour. That is selfless love.

That was My teaching. It has been highly disregarded. Now, decades and centuries later, the calculation is presented by the principle of cause and effect. Now, as you say, is 'payday'; at least it is rung in. And that is more than just announced, because announced means 5 to 12.

All this and much more is included in My Law.

The approach of the dark, destructive forces that depend on the energies born of fear, chaos, envy, violence and much more, has always been the same for ages: they seek and find countless people worldwide whose behaviour is based on power, ambition, the will to be and to have, and other negative character traits. They inspire these people purposefully and prepare for them - without their knowledge - ways that give them advantages in social, political and economic life and often also fame, honour and wealth. None of your areas of life is excluded from this, neither technology nor medicine, nutrition, entertainment, industry with its innumerable branches, and many more.

In the beginning, this usually happens through small steps that - hardly noticeably - deviate from the commandments of love for God and neighbour and are not recognized as false, simply because of this. With increasing success, the seduced becomes more and more dependent without knowing it, his measures and methods become more selfish and ruthless; after all, the fruitful results of his actions seem to prove to him that he does everything right. In this way, the fine antennas of his conscience become more and more dull.

If others want to keep up, they are forced to use the same or similar methods, because otherwise they will fall behind. This is also how it slips past many of those who are basically of good will and - to name just one example - want to preserve creation, hardly noticing actions they have not practiced before. Values such as consideration, honesty and fairness often fall by the wayside. Those who do not want to go in this direction, run the risk of being left behind and suffering disadvantages. After all, it is now often a matter of bare survival.

Whether you recognize the truth in My words is not so much a question of intelligence, but of interest.

My enlightening words are to make clear to you the refinement that is recognized by the very few, because it is mostly hidden under the guise of progress, ease of work, prosperity or amusement. In the longer term, however, it leads step by step to a frequently fatal dependency and also to behaviour, whose illegality is not recognised from a spiritual point of view. If the consequences are finally noticed - and in a part of mankind this realization have already dawned strongly - then the entanglements in and by the wrong behaviour, are often already so far advanced that just a conversion is difficult or no longer possible. In many cases, the only choice left is between two evils or the acceptance of serious impairments.

The dilemma is revealed!

My human children have brought themselves into a situation or more correctly, they have let themselves be brought into a situation through the non-observance of My universal laws, in which they have to recognize their helplessness, because they have no solutions ready for what is appearing on the horizon. They are accustomed, without Me, to look for means in their own will and according to their own ideas, and to follow ways to remove self-caused difficulties from the world, or to move them to another corner of chaos. It is not unusual for the devil to be cast out with Beelzebub, which means that one evil is fought or replaced by another.

Now even the greatest optimist must realize that, despite all the tricks and cleverness, one can arrive at a point that proves to be a dead end - and that My Laws are not to be overridden.

"Now what?" you'll wonder. It is 5 after 12, I told you once. I repeat this statement. What I mean is that you can no longer turn back the hands and stop the clock. It does not mean that now everything is already consecrated to total destruction. That is why I do not paint a horror scenario on the wall that would only cause fear, anxiety and panic. But on the other hand, your situation also forbids you to ignore the storms and thunderclouds that are looming - to put it pictorially - which will certainly leave some devastating effects behind.

Many of My children, despite better knowledge, will pretend that everything is all right anyway. They will increasingly enjoy the superficialities of life and will numb themselves with the idea that everything will settle down again. Do not be deceived, My beloved.

But don't stare at the snake like a rabbit, helpless and motionless. There is no reason for that. Even if it won't be possible to find a solution for everything outwardly, I Am the one who - as I said at the beginning - knows no hopeless situations, no dilemmas. Only, My solutions very often differ seriously from your ideas.

I remind you that I am love! And that there is no greater certainty than to live in and with Me. Is that too easy for one or the other to say? Is it too difficult to be put into action? Certainly, it presupposes trust in My guidance, the insertion of your human will into My divine will. This will be easier for you if you can fall back on experiences you have already made with Me.

If they are not yet so numerous, there is nothing to stop you now - still today - coming to Me in your inner being and discussing with Me all that you have on your heart. Look at your life, look at your past and your thinking and acting in the present. And then have the courage to correct something where it is necessary.

But don't let yourself be guided by the thought of wanting or having to buy yourself a "divine protection" only so that the ship of your life can master the high and higher waves as long as possible and undamaged. Be aware that your earthly life is an important necessity for what there is to learn; but that your goal is somewhere else: with Me!

You will reach this goal all the more safely if you take Me on board as your pilot, which means: Take care of yourself, of your day, of the tasks it sets for you. And then choose to follow more and more the commandment of love. So you no longer even need to ask for protection or safe conduct; for I, your Father, know what you need and what is best for the salvation of your soul and body.

Then you will walk upright and courageously through everything that will come and you will have the liberating experience that wherever love flows, there is growth, carefreeness and confidence.

Amen
