

Dark clouds and a love relationship of a special kind

9 October 2020

The address of God to man or through man takes place, like everything in creation, according to irrevocable spiritual laws. The different emphases and perspectives in the revelations result from the divine basic aspects of order, will, wisdom, seriousness, patience, love and mercy, according to the spiritual mentality of the one who receives the word of revelation. In and above all, however, love acts as the bearer of all revelations, without which a true word of God is not possible.

Divine Revelation

My beloved sons and daughters, I have repeatedly pointed out to you the crucial role that the Fall - also called the Fall of the Angel - plays in understanding what is happening in creation. 1) Without the knowledge and above all without the recognition of the grave consequences for you, you are and remain puppets on the invisible threads of the forces responsible for the divided creation.

Also you, every single one of you, are part of My creation. And therefore, when I speak of creation, not only the innumerable fine-material and material worlds are meant, but to the same extent, all My children. Among them, especially those suffer from the separation, living outside the heavens, who have thus found their temporary home as humans on earth or as souls in the astral regions.

While souls, depending on the area to which they are attracted to after discarding their human body shell, often live in great inner distress and lack of freedom under bleak circumstances, many people do not feel this way. Apart from the large part of My human children who are hungry and starving, sick and suffering from war and persecution, most people in countries with a higher standard of living get along quite well. They have "settled in", and if their money is enough to enjoy distracting superficialities, they find their sensual fulfillment in them. Rarely is the question then seriously asked what all of this is actually about.

The reason for this is that the negative forces, which never gave up their fight against Me and later on also against you, have managed to limit the consciousness of the vast majority of people through targeted manipulation. This has led to the fact that My unenlightened children live in an illusory world, which they consider to be the reality, in which it is a matter of catching as much of the cake as possible.

In this way My commandment of love was and is infiltrated, misrepresented and hollowed out. Since every disregard of this commandment represents a negative cause that has a negative effect, it looks on your earth as it is felt by those who still have a sense of what is prepared and takes place behind the scenes: destructive, devastating, disintegrating.

How and through whom this happens, I have explained to you in My last word of revelation<sup>1</sup>): Through those who for a short time feel themselves to be the "great ones" of this world and yet do not know that with every action directed against My commandment of love they become more deeply entangled in the law of sowing and reaping and load more and more guilt upon themselves; and this until they too collapse under the burden of their own transgressions. Since they have no spiritual knowledge, or in their presumption unbelievably reject such knowledge when it is offered to them, they must inevitably be the losers. For the trump card called Cause and Effect holds the light in it's hands.

And therefore the light - Mine and yours, will triumph!

Because the vast majority of people lack the knowledge of the big picture in which they are involved, the other side has such an easy job. It would have been quite possible - and still is - to acquire knowledge of the rules of the game, according to which life takes place on all levels of creation, but also in the existence of every human being and every soul.

Beginning with My incarnation in Jesus of Nazareth, there were innumerable handouts from My side over the course of many centuries, which referred to My commandment of love and brought enlightenment. They could easily have been recognized as help, which I gave to mankind through My faithful ones, through your brothers and sisters, who had - and have - made it their business to proclaim My truth to the people. With all their still existing faults and weaknesses, however, they cultivated a relationship with Me that was characterized by deep love; just as there is an eternal connection between Me and you. Whereby it is My deepest wish that this connection becomes ever closer so that it can no longer be affected by anything. Which does not mean that you are to strive for perfection, which you cannot achieve on earth anyway. I am content with your honest effort and a childlike "Father, I love you."

But those who were in charge at the switching points of power decided to follow the whispers of darkness; they led the ignorant astray - contrary to My teaching, which commanded a life in love. The view of the great and the whole was lost. People concentrated and limited themselves to this life they encountered for a few decades, although this little bit of life can be of crucial importance if it is used in the spirit of My love-teaching.

Not only has this not changed, the wrong direction has become dominant and determines your thinking and acting to the extent that your technical possibilities lead you to believe that you are slowly but surely getting behind the secrets of the material universe. Since a spiritual universe does not exist anyway in the imagination of most people, they limit themselves despite all scientific progress and results. Although they broaden their intellectual horizon a little, they simultaneously narrow their consciousness and increasingly diminish their sense of the existence of another, eternal reality. In this way, they cannot get behind the meaning and purpose of life.

You cannot capture the scent and beauty of a rose, even if you go into the depths of it's atomic structure with highly sensitive instruments. You can only get a comprehensive picture if you look at the flower from a certain distance. Then it's wonderful nature will be revealed. Transfer this parable to yourself and your life.

Also the meaning of your existence opens up to you only when you leave behind the restrictive conceptions, which are based on a belief in a singular life. When you do not seek heaven above the clouds, but in yourselves. When you bring Me down from a sphere that is completely abstract to you, which you never understood anyway despite all imagination, and put Me into your heart, there where I dwell since eternities. When you acknowledge that you come from a dimension that knows neither time nor space, and that you have only entered Earth for the duration of the incarnation, which you will then leave again. When you recognize the necessity to let your soul become lighter and nobler through the appropriate behavior of your human being. And when you see the great arc - and internalize this truth, that this arc exists(!) - on which you have left the heavens, which was temporary dwellings to you of the most different kinds, and which, according to My inviolable laws, will sooner or later lead you home again with absolute certainty.

*

It does not necessarily sound or seem very risky or even dangerous when I tell you that you have entered the domain of darkness with your incarnation. Many do not recognize or feel the cleverly packaged temptations and afflictions to which they are permanently exposed; for these consist not only and not always in direct temptation to evil, but often and much more effectively in seductions to laxity and in a thousandfold distractions, which lead to stagnation and disinterest in spiritual things. Very few though, if enlightened, know in detail about these dangers.

In addition, during incarnation, memories of earlier times are erased, and for good reasons. What remains is a more or less great longing of the soul to develop itself in man, in order to make some progress on it's way home; and impulses that rise in man when certain strings of his soul are touched and made to vibrate. Beyond that of course conscience, insofar as man has not suppressed it in previous lives, and My love-teaching, which I brought to you as Jesus. What is missing is a knowledge of the meaning of existence and of the manifold opportunities for learning that life continuously offers. But even more serious is the ignorance that and how I support every effort, no matter how small, with My love, which has all possibilities.

The reason I keep coming back to this point is that due to a lack of enlightenment there is no awareness of what kind of world you have entered with your incarnation. It is true that your earth is a wonderful planet on which it would be good to live and learn if the rules of love, which I taught people as Jesus, were followed. Therefore is the term training center quite appropriate. But especially on your earth, darkness rages uninhibitedly, because it has here the possibility, not visible and largely unnoticed, to influence people, to manipulate, to attack and to keep them from soul-development. Nowhere else does it find comparably great opportunities and good prerequisites for repeatedly replenishing and expanding the ranks of it's vassals and extending it's sphere of power.

Because you can only look at your earth with your outer eyes, you lack the possibility to get a picture of what is going on in the areas that are invisible to you. This is a good thing, because you would be deeply frightened and disturbed. Whoever is sceptical of My words or considers them to be exaggerated or does not believe Me, may remember that no negative thought can be grasped and no loveless act performed without also establishing contact with personal or impersonal forces which, as the driving force, instigate and accompany every event with unimaginable refinement. In areas that are not perceptible to you, we plan, influence and carry out in dimensions that your imagination cannot fathom. Even the worst representations of the games in your digital devices do not come even remotely close to the reality of the spheres surrounding you.

This brief description may suffice. It will move those to even greater earnestness who believe My words, and they will be even more careful than before with their feelings and thoughts. For that is where the tempters start.

But not everything that happens to you is due to intentional damage by dark forces. Here it is important to use common sense, to take a critical look at your own behavior and never forget that an incarnation is always associated with many small and also larger ailments and limitations. Finally, you have decided to live in matter where nothing is perfect.

That you can still go through your life somewhat untroubled is because I hold My hand over those of My children who have chosen to incarnate for reasons of their spiritual development. If it were not for My protection in which you are wrapped up in manifold ways, no-one would have a chance to go his way without the most massive disturbances and hindrances; unless he devotes himself to the goals of darkness and becomes it's tool for a few years or decades. During this time he is doing relatively well on the outside because the dark Ones are setting the course of his life for him and supplying him with energy. The rude awakening finally comes when the earthly eyes close at the end of his life.

You may find the distribution of the forces that collide in this conflict unequal and unjust: on the one hand the unnoticed sieges and invisible attacks, on the other the unsuspecting man. Equal opportunities do not seem to exist here. And where, in the eyes of many, is the justice that is part of My love?

Let's reflect together, and when you have found the solution, you will be surprised how flawlessly everything fits together. And you will at the same time recognize the principle how I will again unite My creation in love and under consideration of the free will of all My children. '... all My children' also mean that I also do not touch the free will of those who are against Me and you. They will finally come to their senses when they are confronted in due course with the harvest of their illegally sown seeds. Until then, they will have the opportunity to measure their strength against yours.

However, since the light is generally stronger, they can only succeed when and where they find a counterpart with an energy-potential that allows them to exert influence. These can be partial aspects of a character, for example a human weakness, which they exploit to get their victim to behave in a certain way, to harm him, to rob him of energy, or to get "a foot in the door" with him. In this way, they then create an open access that they can quickly use again and again if necessary. All addictions, bad habits and uncontrolled negative reactions, which resemble well-worn tracks, which man can only leave with great effort or not at all, are among them. And much more.

The struggle for a soul begins in childhood, at the latest when the child begins to discover and use it's own will. The protection of a new citizen of the earth is taken over by his guardian angel. He wraps his protégé in love on My behalf and protects him from many things in the first years of his life, because otherwise a successful start into the new incarnation would not be guaranteed.

That so many beginnings fail in your eyes, is because you have different ideas and wishes, is not the subject of My revelation today. But however it presents itself for you: It can never be a mistake, and never does anything happen against the will of the soul; because everything is bound by My law and happens without exception on the basis of My love.

*

With increasing age, the soul and human being change. It becomes more and more obvious what good and less good things the soul has brought into the new life. Thus the inside expresses itself little by little also in the outside. Whoever knows about these spiritual connections does not usually find it very difficult to draw conclusions about the inner life of a person from his behavior.

But be careful! Before you begin to judge other people- which is not in My sense anyway - explore yourselves and become humble in doing so.

In all the years of your life on earth, both heaven and darkness are constantly trying to give you impulses to move you in the direction they desire. Heaven does this in it's inimitable way: gently, lovingly, quietly, leaving you free will. It may also be that the law of sowing and reaping intervenes to draw your attention to something that ultimately serves the good of your soul and your person.

The opposition does not take your free will into consideration. They know your weak points, because every spiritual being with appropriate development and training can read your inner state in your aura and knows about your most secret wishes, your interests and your intentions. It knows the loopholes, the open doors and windows of your soul-dwelling, about which you do not know or which you do not want to admit.

Does that scare you? Then this should make you more vigilant and careful, for you are then the inferior in this unequal fight, if you act ignorantly or naively and without much thinking in order, for example, to indulge an inclination or to avoid self-knowledge. Then your position is weakened and your protection has entry ports, so that you have little or nothing to resist temptation or influence with.

According to the law of attraction, then, something can have an effect on you only if it finds the same or similar thing in you and can address it. But even then it is not to say that the challenge will be successful. For it depends on how strong your union with Me is, how closely the bond of love for Me is already tied from your side.

The relationship between Me and each creature is a love-relationship. There is a relationship of a unique nature between Me, your Father, your giver and sustainer of life, and you, My child, whom I have known since eternities and will unconditionally love for all eternities. Our love-relationship represents a program of contrast - it could not be greater - to what has been going on on your Earth for a long, long time and is heading towards it's preliminary climax.

It is My wish - and it is also the wish of your soul - that already during your lifetime we grow into such a loving togetherness and intimacy that there is nothing left that can come between us in any form. Your soul still knows the inner bliss connected with it from the time when you were at home with Me and your loved ones in your eternal homeland: in light, in freedom, in boundlessness and a carefree existence. And because this wonderful sensation still lies within you, even if - still - hidden, you have the possibility to reanimate it, so that your life gets a completely different content and value and a new goal, and you experience an enrichment never known before.

But you will only succeed in this if you get completely involved with Me. What then follows will be anything but boring. Your path will resemble an exciting adventure that will always leave you astonished; for you will be led by Me, Love.

If your human being desires this as much as your soul does, then let us begin by you taking Me into your feeling more than before. It is the level of sensations on which love grows and flourishes. To meet Me there in silence is more than a prayer. Then the two of us merge together, even if only for a few moments in the beginning. But they can become an unshakeable foundation on which not only your earthly future is built, but your path in general, which leads you back to Me.

This path will become shorter and easier for you the more serious your decision for love is. You will build up more and more the protection - My protection - around you, which you hope for, in order to be able to recognize the intentions of the darkness faster and to be better armed against it's temptations and attacks. My wrapping is like a force-field in which you live much safer than before. It will raise you more and more above the low vibration with which you are to be bound by the opposing forces to the world, to it's numerous offers promising false happiness, and to it's distractions, which are nothing but cleverly set traps.

Isn't that what you wish for? Is this not the freedom from fear that you dream of? Is this not the blind trust in My guidance, which holds only good things ready for you and your soul? If it is so, My child, then come and hesitate no longer. Turn with your feeling more and more often to Me, your Father, Who is the eternal Source of life for you and all that is. Or direct your feelings to Jesus, if you prefer this, because you have perhaps learned it this way. It is the same Love with which you connect at the same moment.

It is crucial that you recognize the importance of establishing or expanding the love-relationship between Me and you. Then you will also break through the everyday trot of life that has crept into the hearts of many who call themselves Christian, but in whose hearts love burns only as a small flame; and who thereby often become the plaything of foreign forces.

This is not what I have planned for My children. That cannot and will not be and remain the result of My incarnation; because the goal of My incarnation and the redemption connected with it was and is the freedom of all My children. The opposing forces are rearing up because they suspect that it will become ever more narrow for them. But you have now experienced the background; you now know about the truth. Don't let yourself be distracted! You also know the way, which can lead you at My hand through all woe and crying: Tie the bond of love between us ever more firmly. Then you shall also know that the inequality of forces, of which I spoke at the beginning, presents itself differently than you might have assumed.

Love has the stronger weapons in this fight. So the advantage is on the side of the light, no matter how the image is currently presented. But the Light will not use it's victory to enslave or punish the inferior, as is usual with worldly victors. Also the previously defeated are My beloved children, who, because they have finally come to knowledge, repentance and conversion, will again be received with great joy and indescribable jubilation.

Even if it still takes time until it happens, this does not change the fact that it will happen this way. Because it is My will, and because I have the power for it. And because I Am Love!

When you believe My words and have followed Me, then it will have become clear to you that you increase the flock of those who fight at My side through your 'yes'. Because on the one hand it is about the fact that I want to bring you through all the storms and high waves like a "pilot on board of your ship of life", but on the other hand, every light is needed in this dark world. Because a man who wants to become light out of love for Me will also at the same time always be light for all the innumerable, whose souls long for light and warmth. Even if they themselves do not yet know it.

My beloved ones, do not worry. Everything is going "according to plan," both in your world and in the existence of the individual. But this does not mean that I was the planner of the fall of the angels. It merely means that nothing can happen outside of My law, and likewise nothing that I in My wisdom cannot meet with superiority. From the darkness was - what now appears as chaos - played out a long time ago. The preparations for this have been going on for many centuries and more, with one stone set upon another with foresight, thus creating the conditions for the extremely critical situation in which you now live. Nothing has been left out of consideration. The willingness of people to open themselves to everything new, interesting and fun was appreciated and used ruthlessly without you noticing the intentions. In the process, the values that I conveyed to people were gradually neglected and largely forgotten.

This is your present situation, both in political and economic terms, as well as with regard to your earth, your indispensably needed living-space. Often, however, new life can only arise from ashes. But then it will appear all the more powerful.

My love accompanies you, also your thoughts, which are not always fearless and light. You are sons and daughters of the heavens, and you have it in your hands whether you want to and can go through your day radiantly and powerfully in spite of all events. The strengthening of our love-relationship will be an incomparable help to you.

Amen

(1) Revelation of 8. 9 .2020