

Back to the Roots

9 December 2020

The address of God to man or through man takes place, like everything in creation, according to irrevocable spiritual laws. The different emphases and perspectives in the revelations result from the divine basic aspects of order, will, wisdom, seriousness, patience, love and mercy, according to the spiritual mentality of the one who receives the word of revelation. In and above all, however, love acts as the bearer of all revelations, without which a true word of God is not possible.

This is a fundamental revelation, which is explained at the end of the revelation

Divine Revelation

My beloved sons and daughters, it has been said and written more than enough that Christmas, as your world celebrates it, has absolutely nothing to do with the meaning and purpose of My birth. Under the influence of dark forces, it managed to become what it is today over the course of many centuries, especially in recent decades. This negative development has also not stopped those who call themselves Christian.

This year it hits many people particularly hard because they have to do without that which makes Christmas Christmas to them. The atmosphere is suddenly missing when strolling and shopping, which cannot be replaced by bright lights and Christmassy background music. Wearing masks, people pass each other in silence, and the atmosphere is more like a day of mourning. But Christmas should be a very special celebration: a remembrance of the fact that I, your Father and Creator, came into the world Myself to initiate the return of all My fallen children, which finally happened through the redemption on Golgotha.

So "Rejoice" should be the slogan that should be expressed in the Christian parts of your world at Christmas. "Rejoice in everything, because suffering has an end. God Himself came down from heaven and has created the possibility for all of us to return to the light. Rejoice." It is prayed and sung about, but the sigh of relief of the soul - which is decisive and much more important than a thousand words and songs - that it can only go higher now, because heaven is within reach, remains within very narrow limits. This was the case long before Corona.

That this feeling does not prevail should - regardless of the restrictions imposed on you - make those of you who take their faith more seriously than the great masses still thinking that being a Christian is like a walk where you only meet nice people and greet them friendly. To be a Christian, that is to follow Me, is a decision for something - and thus at the same time a rejection of something: for an effort to live seriously in everyday life the teaching of love brought by Me, which at the same time means to swim against the tempting current of the spirit of the times. As fearlessly as possible.

This is not easy, often requires courage and the acceptance of disadvantages and often brings with it the feeling of not being understood. Then, My child, it is all the more appropriate to come to Me in your inner being and lay yourself in My arms to feel My presence and My love. For I am closer to you than anything else in the world, and no power can ever give you what flows to you uninterruptedly from the source of all life: My infinitely great love.

If now it is so often talked about to just seek the positive and to hold on to it, then I make a suggestion to you: Use the time of the ordered external restrictions for an honest reflection on how you have so far interpreted the term "discipleship" for yourself, and whether it might be necessary, in memory of Me and My life as Jesus, to see and do one or the other thing in your life differently than before. Of course in an absolutely free decision.

For whoever calls himself Christian, he should calmly every now and then apply to his life the standard which I have given him with My teaching. What will he discover in an honest observation ...?

To live with Me is like a real adventure, but it is not, as is often wrongly assumed, "to manage with the left hand". You can also put it that way exaggeratedly: If you never "rub up against" someone, but rather manage to avoid all obstacles elegantly like a slalom skier, you are doing something wrong. He hasn't quite understood yet that being a Christian is no "walk in the park".

The vast majority of people have lost sight of eternity due to a lack of enlightenment, the hustle and bustle of your time, countless activities and entertainment, the relative prosperity in which many live, and the progress in all areas that fascinates you, especially in the field of technology. They make you believe that something is desirable that is absolutely not desirable, but in many cases damaging or even fatal in the long run. In any case, however, they hinder the unfolding of your consciousness and thus your spiritual development.

Shall I, your God and loving Father, be silent when I see you racing at high speed toward the abyss? And when suffering and need appear, not knowing why such a thing suddenly enters your life and how you are to deal with it - if then help, as you wish it to be, is still possible at all? Those who live with Me will also be saddened by My statement about what is coming up to you - if they have not already long since recognized all this themselves and have adjusted themselves to it inwardly - but it will not pull them down. But the others will be frightened or will dismiss My words as untrustworthy or fear-mongering.

But verily, I say to you: Your planet in it's present state is no longer able to produce new, healthy life by it's own power. Too much has already been irretrievably destroyed. Air, earth and water have been highly poisoned and otherwise contaminated, and your artificially generated radiation, which is sold to you as necessary for greater and faster growth and a higher standard of living, damages and kills invisibly. By the time you finally notice the effects of what you have done, it will be too late.

Humanity has destroyed it's own basis of life, which is a behavior that is not even found at the lower stages of evolution.

When I tell you that a large part of mankind has lost sight of eternity, this means that they are not willing or able to acknowledge a spiritual Power and His law, which as the supreme authority stands above everything, and which also brought forth the material creation. These My human children do not want to admit that there is something - figuratively expressed: like a "Divine eye" - that watches over their behavior, because they want to put their doing and leaving, their self-will, not under My will, which is love and care.

To those who ignore Me, who put through their own intentions and thus violate My commandment of love, I say: My law governs everything, and this regardless of whether you know or acknowledge it or not. Nothing is and happens outside of My law, and thus what you do and experience as a consequence, is never detached or separated from the law of sowing and reaping. You can indeed see this in this way and fool yourselves with it because I have given you free will; but it will be of no use to you when you will stand before your judge, that is, before yourselves.

Whoever wants to serve Me and the welfare of the general public does this best and most effectively by keeping to what I have taught. If this is not possible in your world because other forces and interests oppose it, then you can take that as an indication of the extent to which opposing forces have taken over and have already led many people to the conviction that the belief in the implementation of My love-teaching comes from the realm of wishful dreams.

Those of you who know that all communication is governed by the principle "like attracts like", recognize more. You understand that someone who makes decisions in the outer world that do not serve the interests of your earth and those of your peoples, or only superficially - and which are transparent to an alert consciousness - are influenced by forces that intend what I have already repeatedly revealed to you, namely:

To continue the struggle with all possible means with the aim of binding the souls of humans to the astral realms after their physical death in order to rule over them. In the long run, their intention is to make your planet uninhabitable in order to make the development of the souls impossible, which can be accomplished much faster on earth than in the hereafter. Since they do not act directly on matter and can intervene in the processes, they do so indirectly. This happens in the same way that they also move each of you again and again - you can also say "seduce" - to pursue your still existing negative inclinations. Use your mind if you want to find out how and by whom they do it on a large scale. And if necessary, fall back on My Godly words of the past.

I tell you - and My lucidity will frighten many - because they prefer to close eyes and ears or cannot reconcile such lucidity with a God of love:

What you are experiencing is the implementation of a plan that is concocted in hell, carried into matter and executed on your earth. The inclusion of the virus to achieve the goals they have set, is only part of it. With each unlawful step, the accumulated burden of guilt has increased. The hand of the clock has passed the twelve.

Who has lost "sight of eternity", who therefore does not know or does not want to know the spiritual and therefore directs his attention only to life in matter and acts accordingly, resembles a blind man on a dangerous trip. It becomes doubly dangerous when other blind people choose him as their leader and follow him without thinking. This has always been so; your present time merely reveals it more clearly and faster than in the past.

I have placed My revelation today under the word: "Back to the Roots" and I want to explain to you what this is all about. From a root comes life, which visibly appears on the outside as a flower or tree and other things. But many influences can change the intended end result, even though it is not so arranged in the seed and then in the root that emerged from it. To get a good and healthy fruit, it may be necessary to start a new process of growth. Then a more or less amount will be "set to zero", and the healthy root - in this example, My teaching of lived love - will begin again, then under different, better conditions and circumstances, to bring forth the life slumbering in it with its innumerable possibilities.

As Jesus, I gave you a similar parable when I spoke of the kingdom of heaven being like a man who sowed good seed in his field. Now while the people were sleeping, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat and went away ... Your writing explains the picture to you.

"Back to the Roots" means both a look at your own position, your personal circumstances and, if necessary, a reflection and conversion, as well as a relentless balance, a look at what has developed in your world as a result of a long period of misconduct which is now becoming more and more apparent as catastrophes, suffering, oppression and more. The time is ripe.

As for My children and their personal fate, this is not the first time I am speaking here and elsewhere of the fact that it is unwise to put off the decision whether you want to give Me your 'yes'. Especially since it is a decision that concerns your earthly, but above all your future existence in the hereafter. None of you know the day or the hour. And yet many people act as if they still have "half an eternity" of time. This is not so, and this not because the world will end already tomorrow, but because it requires a certain preparation time to be able to enter the ark with a sure foot.

Most of you are familiar with the figuratively used expression "to enter the ark in time", which, in reference to the story of Noah, means to seek and find protection from evil and calamity. With this word I urge you to direct your life towards Me more than before. I regard "inner work" as development, which can be initiated immediately and is "registered by heaven at the same moment", but which cannot be accomplished overnight. That is why a special emphasis is placed on punctuality. It is I, then, who stand by you with manifold help and support, because on the basis of your free decision to turn to Me or even to devote yourself to Me, I can now set the course of your life anew to a far greater extent than before.

It testifies to wisdom and foresight, when you therefore, with a view to the time lying ahead of you, think about whether and how you want to deepen your love and nearness to Me so that I am not only your God and Father for you, but the most loyal and reliable Friend - as Jesus is also your brother - as you will never find a better one. The steps that are necessary to be able to feel My love more and more in you, are captured in the small but powerful word and commandment that is valid for all time: love - and nothing else.

I am waiting with longing for you, My son, and for you, My daughter, because I want to embrace you again as My beloved child.

But "back to the roots" has yet another meaning. It concerns mankind and the circumstances of life brought about by it itself, which make it more and more difficult for it to shape its life carefree, healthy, free, and with a positive prospect; and which, as a consequence of this development, at the same time prevent a steady, upward development of the soul.

You receive the words from My Spirit as "Divine Revelation". This is usually something more than just a transmission containing enlightenments, admonitions, instructions and much more. Through a revelation, something is revealed that was previously unknown or not sufficiently perceived in this detail or depth. This was true through all centuries and millennia.

What before avoided the light, will come to daylight, and that through it the machinations and ways of darkness become visible, you are not hearing this for the first time.

Such a process is triggered by the law of sowing and reaping, which are the consequences of a gross, especially inhuman violation of My love-commandment always clear sooner or later. Darkness thus betrays itself, and its actions, no matter how veiled and finely woven, come to the surface and thus become obvious to all who want to admit it. No-one will ever be able to escape this process.

When you reflect on the history of mankind in your thoughts during the last centuries and far beyond, you will have to realize that at all times evil has been active on your earth. Certainly, wars have been started by humans; but those of you who know about the priority of a spiritual world, also recognize that these were seductions whose origin can be sought and found in the influence of demonic forces.

Persecutions on religious grounds, small and large armed conflicts on all continents, oppression of the weak and helpless - I only remind you of the enslavement of millions of people of different skin color, persecution and annihilation of dissidents by the crusades and as "witches" and "heretics", extermination of whole peoples, the destruction of your livelihood "earth" and many, many more were and are components of the demonic repertoire. Time does not heal wounds when Divine justice is at stake. And, because time plays no part in the spiritual - where the atrocities have piled up "sky-high" - nothing of that which is still unatoned has disappeared 'just like that'. On the contrary, it is so present as if it had happened yesterday.

Repentance and above all reparation and a conversion, visible through a different, positive, neighbour-loving behavior, could have transformed and dissolved much. My love and mercy would have accompanied this process to an extent that you would not have thought possible. But first of all a step of self-knowledge would have been necessary: to have become guilty by disregarding My love commandment. That did not happen. On the contrary, an attempt has been and is being made to compensate for the consequences of wrong decisions and unlawful actions by new, no less wrong, decisions that harm man and earth. So the devil with Beelzebub was driven out again and again. And nobody noticed? Really not, My sons and daughters?

Now the negative weighing pan has been lowered. In the case of a reflection, which should then have taken place worldwide, the time before you, which represents the transition into a new epoch, would indeed have been less painful and bitter. But My warnings were not believed, even when it became obvious that the barrel of bad seed and bad harvest was about to overflow. It has overflowed!

The time of which I already spoke as Jesus of Nazareth, which is called the "end time" in your Bible, and of which already for many hundreds of years, faithful servants and maids of My love have announced, is here! And it will not only bring about natural disasters of various kinds and economic ruin, but also oppression by those who - still - have the power to do so; which is already being practiced in many countries.

These My words will not please many people, but I will therefore not stop the wheel, which produces the effects of the negative causes millionfold from the depths. It will also be of no use to them to interpret only vague possibilities or eventualities into the numerous announcements already contained in your scriptures, to possibly occur sometime in the far future.

Therefore in all love, because I want to guide you protectively and spare you worries and pain, but also in all clarity:

The times of milk and honey are over! The most difficult time of humanity that ever faced it has begun. The wind has picked up and is about to turn into a storm and then a hurricane, and the sea is getting rougher and rougher. Blessed is the one who has decided, or will decide in time, to bring the pilot on board his ship of life.

The present last act of a great spectacle that begins as a drama but will end in the light.

"That is pure fear-mongering," not a few will think or say. Ask yourself, if this is also your opinion, whether I have ever worked with fear to make a human child behave differently. I Am the love that also includes freedom. There is no room in Me for manipulation, lies and underhandedness.

Fear, as you know by now, is a popular tool of your opponent, who knows how to play this keyboard very well. What does he get out of it? Fear makes [people] submissive. If you are afraid, it is very easy to steer you in the direction that will be of great benefit to the fear stoker. Because in situations that are uncomfortable for him, the anxious person likes to behave in a - to him seemingly - easier way. In doing so, he often throws overboard many of his convictions for which he had previously stood up for. If this is at the expense of the commandment of love, then the opposite side has won a small or even greater victory; which the frightened one - because the traps are cleverly set - is often not even aware of.

Apart from the fact that fear makes people willing and enslaves them, it brings a further advantage to darkness: a soul burdened with fear - when crossing over and entering ethereal worlds - will seldom be able to spread it's wings and joyfully and confidently strive towards it's true goal. And the soul has the disadvantage of not being able to find the security in Me in astral regions even after the death of it's human existence, because it did not really build on Me during it's lifetime, but only relied on an outer security.

One of the tools used by the opposing forces to manipulate and generate fear is a sophisticated campaign to create opinions and moods, which promises to be particularly successful if it is well-prepared for use worldwide. In this field they are masters of their trade. The technical possibilities are available today. Would you, assuming you had evil intentions, not use them? It has always been a proven instrument, since it aims to influence people in such a way that they hardly find the time and opportunities to question many things independently and on their own responsibility and to filter out the right and wrong from the wealth of information.

Then there can be an unnoticed limitation of consciousness that no longer sees a connection between current events and the announcements and predictions contained in your Bible, both in the Old and New Testament. They are partly so concrete that you should actually wonder how so long ago such precise statements could be made; provided that you consider the prophecies to be true and you take them seriously.

When your scripture speaks of no-one being able to buy or sell unless he has the mark of the beast: Is it difficult to see the parallels to the technical possibilities that already exist today and are already cautiously mentioned - sometimes by this, sometimes by that - as an option to prevent the spread of a virus? Has the testimony that one people will rise up against another and one kingdom against another already dulled for you in the face of all the wars that are continuously taking place in the world? That famines and earthquakes will soon strike this region and soon that region? And that all this is only the beginning, similar to the beginning of the birth pangs?

Who, in the eyes of the skeptics, are the "beast" and the "dragon" of whom your Scripture reports in Revelation? The beast that comes up out of the sea and exercises power over mankind, which was given to him by the dragon? Do the unbelievers among you consider all this to be exaggerated, abstract representations of an event that either belongs in the realm of childish imagination or that will only affect generations that come long, long after you? And if you do consider it possible that sometime the announced time will come: what would you then regard all this as? As inexplicable fate? As a punishment from God? Or do one or two doubters among you then nevertheless suspect that the law of cause and effect has taken up it's work and the time is near?

Do you, who do not believe My words and adhere to your own ideas, want to agree with Me about the time?

How often have I pointed out to you that the dark, destructive forces are far more sophisticated than you can imagine in your limitation! Do you not think that an intelligence that is many times superior to yours is possible? Or do you still believe in a certain fairness of your opponents? In spite of everything, you should not forget that those who are against you and want to harm you in body and soul are your brothers and sisters, who will once again live together with everyone in the light of eternity.

Consider, My sons and daughters: Is it not part of the strategy to infiltrate the ranks of those who have begun to see through the game? Would you miss the opportunity to sow lies that are difficult to see through for what it is among the truth, as described in the parable of the sower who finds weeds among his wheat? If you believe My words, which I spoke as Jesus of Nazareth, then it is actually only a matter of determining what is wheat and what is tares. And when then, by the re-engagement of calm and objective reflection, the view becomes somewhat deeper, many a thing will present itself differently than it seemed at the beginning, because the view may have been somewhat clouded by surprise, uncertainty and fears.

To lump everything together and generally speak of misrepresentations, plays into the hands of darkness. This is exactly what it intended because it knows that many of My human children do not take the trouble and do not take the time to think in peace and without fear to be able to recognize connections.

If you rashly regard everything as conspiracy theories, you must logically add the corresponding statements of your Bible, because it was already announced there, what is now recognized by many to be true. Yes - and with this I address the ignorant and rejecters, who are all too quickly at the point of rejecting everything - then you must also call Me a conspirator. But this will bring those of you who also believe in the Word in your Scripture which points to the coming time, into an inner conflict.

For many of you the winged word "divide and rule" will not be unknown. It is a satanic principle that has been used for many centuries by the powerful of this earth - mainly in the political and military field - to achieve a division of the opposing camp. The demonic thought behind this approach is that a society or nation that is divided and therefore no longer "marches in one direction" is much easier to conquer than a close-knit unit.

If you think only of the splintering within the Christian camp, it is not difficult to see that the plan has succeeded. The different and partly contradictory statements and views about Me and about what is to be believed, have long since made it impossible to speak of Christianity. That such a strategy can only have been developed, by whom is not of Me, is obvious. People were also needed for this.

Do you discover increased signs of a tendency toward division in your society as well? It would be wrong to say again hastily: "One is simply of a different opinion. Look deeper, my sons and daughters. Not only with your current virus and vaccination topic does the rift go right through your people and beyond that through many peoples of the earth. Opponents and supporters often face each other irreconcilably, especially when some are characterized by fanaticism and impatience and others by fear and media credibility.

In many cases, it is not disputes that can be settled with a "Please forgive me" or a yielding of one side. They are profoundly different views that often lead to "blank spots in the communication landscape" in marriages and families, because certain topics can no longer be touched without open anger or quiet retreat. Who is interested?

This speechlessness can be found for months in places where people used to come together to exchange ideas or sit together in a sociable atmosphere. Even simple errands outside the apartment or house are largely silent, and social contacts, which are especially vital for your old and sick people, are restricted or prevented. You will find plenty of other examples yourself if you look for them.

And finally: "Where two or three are together in My name, there am I in the midst of them."

You know that it is not about taking the term "two or three" literally. My Jesus-word means that the energy of love is increased by people who are of the same spirit when praying and singing, making it easier to build up an inner connection to Me. Feelings and emotions of gratitude, joy and security are released to a greater extent and at the same time bundled. And the energy potential of several to many people, who come to Me with an open heart, bringing Me their small and big worries and their love, is many times higher and greater than the sum of the "individual prayers". In addition, it can also be beneficial for the individual to experience an inner strengthening in the community and to find comfort and compassion, which makes the feeling of being alone or lonely less profound.

You are denied these possibilities. A small virus seems to be able to thwart My desire and undermine the needs of My children.

A crucial question, which can help you to find the right answer to your uncertainties, you must answer yourself, because I want to see you as independently thinking sons and daughters. The question is:

Is the prohibition to exercise community useful because it is an absolutely necessary measure as a consequence of an otherwise rampant, life-threatening epidemic? Is it therefore merely a step, resulting from the circumstances and that unavoidable, to protect you? And a second question: Or can it also be the other way around, that this ban and other prohibitions are used as instruments for an intended goal - whatever that may be?

If you recognize the demons as the driving force behind all evil, but exclude as conscious or unconscious actors, those in your world who have the power and possibilities to implement satanic plans, then you are faced with the much more difficult question: Through whom then did darkness succeed and succeeds again and again in putting its plans into practice, and this since time immemorial and, if and where it was possible, also in large parts of your world?

Dealing with such and similar questions has nothing to do with thinking negatively or giving energy to the other side. But you will encounter this argument again and again, packed into the following or similar words: "You must not think anything bad about another!" Isn't there a great difference between a realization, which can be vital for soul and man, and a subsequent condemnation - mostly in thoughts and words - when something unlawful, loveless and against life is also recognized for what it is?

My commandment of love of neighbor also includes love of enemies, which, according to the instruction to love oneself, is probably one of the most difficult exercises. "Love your enemies ..." remains as an irrevocably valid commandment without any concessions for all time. However, it carries an aspect in itself that is often overlooked: namely, to recognize who the enemy is in the first place. Is it someone who wants to steal your belongings? Who threatens to do violence to you or does this too? Who changes your outer circumstances in such a way that your health is endangered?

Yes, of course, and most people are right to pay attention to this. Few are aware of the consequence of the passage in your Scripture which says: "And fear not them which kill the body, and cannot kill the soul; but rather fear him which can destroy both body and soul in hell." From this it clearly follows that the more dangerous enemy is the one who is able to do harm to the soul.

Who is this enemy? How does he work? Do you recognize him when he approaches you well camouflaged, therefore unnoticed by most? When he stirs up your fears? When he tempts you to devote more attention, time and energy to the things of this world than to Me?

He who does not know or recognize the enemy cannot refuse him. Nor will he be able to love him, or at least make an effort to practice and learn to do so more and more.

"Be afraid of him who can do harm to the soul" - therefore, does not mean to close one's eyes and ears for out of concern to have to condemn the soul-damager when one has seen through his intention, because one has not yet learned or is not able to learn it otherwise. Read up, if you want to know therefore what I have said about it. It can be reduced to the simple denominator:

I, your Father, Am not blind and not deaf, so I do not refuse to look and listen. How should I be able to do that? I live in everything! I know and therefore see everything that My children think, say and do, even the abysmal evil. And yet I release not a single one from My heart, because I love them all equally.

This is what every soul expects on its way back to its eternal home: To regain the ability to love one another without distinction. This is not an easy task; but no-one can deny you to strive for it already during your lifetime. With My help this will succeed for everyone who asks Me for it. Those who do so will have plenty of opportunities in the time ahead of them to put such an important and commendable resolution into practice.

To approach the matter in this way is something different than to put on the cloak of "I want to see everything positive" as a precaution due to misunderstood love of enemies. You are even commanded to remain positive; but do it with a view to the good, the uplifting that the new time will bring with it. Your scripture speaks of it. Keep to it, My sons and daughters:

Some call your time and what is happening now, a "wake-up call". You may indeed see it as a renewed admonition that startles you. But how many wake-up calls of this or a similar kind have there already been? Has things been stopped and much or everything been undone, as far as possible? Have everything not become worse than before?

Therefore see what I tell you rather as a memory. Put a different standard on My revelation, which is certainly not a Christmas message as most of you have wished for. I have never objected to you decorating your homes, lighting lights, singing and praying together, and giving attention in the form of small gifts. This can even help to celebrate Christmas more joyfully inwardly.

But when these encores replace the meaning of your feast - to which you have been gradually seduced over many decades - and finally become more important than the knowledge of the spiritual background, then your joy about My birth and the salvation of My children, initiated by it, has changed into a sensoric feast and into a very dubious "joy", which will only be of short duration.

Therefore, do not put so much emphasis on the painted or carved figure of the Child Jesus in the manger, on the representation of the ox and donkey and on the angels hovering in the air singing the Hallelujah. Become aware of the fact of My Holy Presence within you, which is more than anything you will ever find and experience on this earth.

To remind you of this, is My gift to you! It shall direct your thoughts to the power and the love that lies within you. It is to tell you again that I Am at your side; that I have never left you, even if it sometimes seemed so to you; and that there are many good reasons to win the good from what is coming and to reconsider "rejoice" in this sense. Thus the "old" Christmas is disenchanting, and for My followers, who are co-builders of a more beautiful time, a "new" Christmas is created and much more besides.

If this is still very difficult, remember that every birth is also preceded by labor pains, and that no mother who looks forward to her child with all her heart rejects the necessary hours before birth as something faulty or negative, even if the circumstances associated with it are often painful.

Recognize in the earnest words of My enlightenment, with which I have made a wide sweep, My deep desire to wake you up. My heart is heavy when I see how children of My love, who are of good will, are seduced because their eyes and ears are not yet opened wide enough.

I say all this also not accusingly, but I reveal it to you therefore, so that you may get a sense of how, that is, in what way and by what means, My love commandment is violated - not only in your time. This also happens through those whom you often choose as your role models without thinking. Even you yourselves, My beloved ones, often act unconsciously in this way, controlled by old and well-worn programs. You are seldom aware of this because a false picture of what being My disciple involves, is present in you, which was drawn inaccurately over almost two millennia and now serves distortedly as the discipleship of Christ.

The willing among you are called upon to reconsider many things. This includes letting go of old ideas and getting involved in new ones, which will demand a lot from most of you. Because nothing will remain as it is. The art of letting go is to accept and welcome with confidence something unknown, of which one does not know what it will bring for one personally; and this in the certainty of the truth, because I tell it to him.

Whoever has no close connection with Me, may find this unreasonable, sometimes even impossible. But he who has lived with Me for a time will feel in it and with it a confidence that was formerly alien to him. And he will find in Me a security, which he seeks in vain in the world. For My possibilities exceed everything the world can imagine in it's wildest dreams.

Here, too, the rule is: Let he who can take it, take it.

The roots are prepared to bring forth new life. It is My Life that penetrates, grows and flourishes all that will blossom anew, and crowns it until it matures. It is My love that strengthens and lifts to the light all that is ready for it. Do not ask for the time, for My time is not your time. And because you do not know about the day nor about the hour, I have again and again asked you to enter the ark in time. I hereby do this again.

I have called My address today a fundamental revelation because it is more than a knocking at your heart doors. It is a shining into the depths of your consciousness, so that it is possible for you to look into the now illuminated corners, which up to now were still in darkness for you.

Over the centuries, and increasingly in the last decades, I have admonished and enlightened My human children. Many have seen My Words as a beautiful, non-binding reading material and not as partly very concrete instructions to give life a new meaning and direction. But those who have taken seriously what I have taught and incorporated it into their conduct in daily life, are like the five wise virgins who had oil in their lamps when the bridegroom came.

"I still have much to tell you", I said to My disciples and apostles. I have kept My word and will not have it any differently in the future. However, I have given My present explanations of the machinations of My and your opponent a place that far exceeds what has been said up to now. I have done this in order to draw your attention to what is being prepared in the background and is beginning to emerge, and the consequences of which will surpass anything that has ever happened before.

A continual repetition will not bring the unbelievers and doubters to knowledge, and will not be necessary with those who believe My words. That is why I will not again deal with this subject in such detail for the time being. What needed to be said, was said. He who has eyes to see and ears to hear, will recognize in his inner being the truth in My words.

My love and care, no matter what is planned and carried out, is for all, including the apostates. For I Am infinite Love and boundless Mercy.

Amen
